WYOMING ASKS CALIFORNIA TO APPROVE RIVER PACT

Gov. Ross Wires Richardson That Unconditional Ratification Will Hasten Development

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Gov. Richardson today made public a telegram from Gov. Nellie T. Ross of Wyoming, one of the upper-basin States of the Colorado River, expressing hope that the California Legislature, at the special session to be held next Friday, will ratify unconditionally the six-State Colorado River compact.

In her telegram, Gov. Ross also declares it would be the "better part of wisdom" for the lower-basin States, California and Arizona, to reach any agreement that would remove their objections to the compact, which then could be ratified by all seven States. Gov. Ross's telegram follows:

"Should California now ratify the Colorado River compact without reservations, thus putting it into effect among the six States, it would afford Wyoming a large measure of protection and I sincerely hope that your State may see its way clear to take such action as it may deem proper."

"If California and Arizona persist in refusing to ratify the compact, Wyoming, in self-defense, must take action to object to development in the lower-basin States based on appropriations of water from the Colorado River which would be controlled by the terms of the compact until the rights of this State are protected by act of Congress or otherwise safeguarded."

"It would seem to me to be the part of wisdom if it can be done for the lower States to reach an agreement among themselves whereby the objections to the compact by both Arizona and California would be removed and the compact ratified by all seven States, thus giving to the States the fullest measure of protection and permitting development on the river to go forward unimpeded."

COLORADO COMMISSIONER ANALYZES FACT QUESTION DENYING, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Commenting on the action of Gov. Richardson of California in calling a special session of the California Legislature for unconditional ratification of the Colorado River compact, Del. E. Carpenter, Interstate Rivers Commissioner for Colorado, said:

"The question put squarely before the California Legislature by Gov. Richardson's message, is whether or not the State of California will accept the offer of five of the other ratifying States to make the Colorado River compact effective between the six States which originally ratified it, without awaiting action by Arizona and without prejudice to her rights."

"The 1923 sessions of the legislatures of California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming unconditionally ratified the Colorado River Compact, in conformity with Article XI, which requires approval by the Legislature of each of the signatory States and Congress before the compact shall become effective. Arizona took no action, awaiting further information respecting her own problems. The delay thus foretold postponed ratification for two years or longer."

"But in the meantime, the flood menace to the Imperial Valley, California, and other districts became more imminent. This, with other causes, prompted the suggestion that the Colorado River compact be made immediately effective between the six States which had ratified, without prejudice to Arizona. This could be accomplished by reciprocal legislation by the six States providing for a waiver of the requirements of Article XI of the compact. The 1925 session of the Colorado Legislature passed such an act, and similar acts were passed by the legislatures of Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming."

CALIFORNIA DENIES "But California failed to concur with the other States. While her Legislature passed a resolution to make the compact ultimately effective between six or more ratifying States, it contained a provision that the resolution should not become effective until after a reservoir of 20,000,000 acre feet capacity, at or below Boulder Canyon on the Colorado River, had been authorized for construction by the United States."

"In other words, California refused to accept the offer of the other States to make the compact immediately effective, while awaiting the action of Arizona, in order that California might be protected against destructive floods, and by resolution of her Legislature, in effect, replied that she questioned the good faith of the other States and demanded the authorization of the construction of a multipurpose reservoir for her special benefit, with funds from the Treasury of the United States, before she would give the other States protection of their rights to the use of the water of the river, by approving the compact."

"The 1925 California resolution also provided for the repeal of the 1923 action of the California Legislature unconditionally ratifying the compact."

"In conformity with the resolution, California Representatives in Congress pressed for consideration a bill to provide for construction, with Federal funds, of the Boulder Canyon Dam on the Arizona-Nevada boundary, and the all-American Canal and Congressional approval of the Colorado River Compact. This is the act referred to by Gov. Richardson. Realizing the danger of enactment by Congress of some measure for good control on the lower Colorado River, out of simple caution, Representatives of the upper-basin States proposed, discussed and agreed upon certain amendments to the bill pending before Congress, including a provision that the Congressional act should not become effective until California had unconditionally approved the compact and had repealed her restrictive act of 1923. This bill is still under consideration before a committee of the House of Representatives, but was favorably reported by the Senate Committee on Irrigation and will be upon the calendar for consideration at the next session of Congress."

WILL AID PASSAGE "Many of those desiring to make early provision for the protection of the lower Colorado River believe that there is small likelihood of Congress passing any bill for this purpose until the Colorado River compact has been unconditionally approved, especially in view of the demands of Arizona for a reasonable understanding with California prior to the Arizona ratification of the compact and prior to any action by Congress which might interfere with Arizona interests. It is the evident desire of Gov. Richardson that obstacles be removed at once by the repeal of the 1923 California resolution and substitution of an act similar to the act passed by the other five States, which originally ratified the compact. If the California Legislature takes this action,

FORD ASKED TO BUY UP COTTON

Purchase of 2,000,000 Bales Suggested to Steady Prices

GADSDEN (Ala.) Oct. 18. (AP)—Henry Ford has been asked by M. C. Allgood, Representative in Congress from the Seventh Alabama District, to buy 2,000,000 bales of the present cotton crop in an effort to stabilize prices.

Mr. Allgood made the request in a telegram sent last night to Mr. Ford in which the Congressman pointed out that such a move would not only benefit the farmers of the South, but would aid the business of the Ford agencies, which would suffer in almost every county in the cotton district from the low prices existing today.

COTTON MEN SEEK AID OF WASHINGTON Problems of Marketing Crop Go Before Committee Named by President

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—Southern cotton marketers today laid their problem of handling this year's record crop before the committee appointed by President Coolidge to aid in the emergency three-hour conference, Eugene Meyer, chairman of the President's committee, stated that the problem is still under discussion and that the government stands ready to supply such aid as is needed for orderly marketing of the crop.

A committee, representing the American Cotton Growers' Exchange, explained their situation to the executive board, declaring the problem is twofold. First, marketing of this year's crop, and second, cutting of acreage for next year by 25 per cent.

It was estimated it will be necessary to extend the marketing of this season's crop over eighteen or twenty-four months rather than the usual twelve months. A total of about $175,000,000 in credit would be required. Much of this credit, it was said, is available, and always has been.

Poison Liquor Show Planned by Dry Force PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18. (AP)—A new departure in prohibition enforcement tactics here, by which the government hopes to convince Philadelphia tipplers of the danger of booting liquor, is to be tried today.

The plan, announced today, calls for an elaborate window display campaign, with analyses of samples of liquor confiscated by the police and a realistic picture of what effect it might have on the imbiber.

"The reason for the move," said Thomas Cavanaugh, local prohibition administrator, "is that the public continues to believe that the liquor of today is as good as that to be had before the passing of the Volstead Act."

"We hope to convince the public that the vast majority of liquor today is filled with poisons which have been hurriedly and improperly distilled."

Nicaraguans to Argue Terms on Cruiser Denver CORINTH (Nicaragua) Oct. 18. (AP)—Two sessions will be held today on board the United States cruiser Denham at the port of Genoa, Nicaragua, to argue the terms of the proposed peace treaty between the United States and the Nicaraguan Conservative party and the Liberal revolutionaries who are opposed to the American Charge d'Affaires.

Government advisors today said 300 rebels have been defeated in an attack on Somoto, near the Honduran border. The rebels lost 100 men, 100 were killed, ten wounded and the government forces at three killed and five wounded.

CITRUS TARIFF TOPIC OF TALK

Evans, Candidate for Seat in Congress, Speaker Urges Republican House to Protect Industry

POMONA, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Asking his audience to face facts in preference to smoothly worded evasion, W. E. Evans, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, addressed one of the largest political assemblies in his campaign tonight in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium here, taking as his theme, "The Life Blood of the Citrus Industry."

The tariff, he said, was not a sentimental issue, but one as concrete and basic in human affairs as the age-old struggle to obtain bread. With a Republican protective tariff sufficient to ensure a market in the East against the importation of citrus fruits grown through the labor of peons and slaves, the American people of California's southern valleys were able to live happily and in the midst of plenty. But each time the blight of a Democratic low tariff had been allowed to strike the industry, the golden fruit of the citrus districts had been dumped in the rivers, stupor of profit, and hard times had descended upon the grower, the merchant in the town and the laborer alike.

"This condition of hard times was brought about by the enactment of the Underwood Democratic tariff bill that was aided in becoming a law by the man who is now my opponent in this campaign," Mr. Evans declared. "That man helped to make you suffer in this district, and I trust that you have not so soon forgotten."

When you replaced him six years ago with a Republican you soon found that you could get protection. The Fordney-McCumber tariff law was promptly enacted, and under its protection you have found a profitable market for your oranges and lemons and walnuts.

"Six years ago this man who is now my opponent was a candidate for this same office on the Socialist ticket, along with Robert M. La Follette, one of the most influential platforms ever devised to ruin the American people. This district has enjoyed prosperity under Republican tariff. Do you now wish to face about and confront ruin again?"

Mr. Evans also touched upon the necessity for the early passage of the Boulder Canyon dam legislation and a strong support of the Federal Reserve Bank and the Republican administration. The meeting was presided over by E. L. Lottier, Republican candidate, made a strong address in which he dwelt largely upon the necessity for support for Mr. Evans and a strong support of the Federal Reserve Bank and the Republican administration. Investigate the ECONOMY of HOME-OWNERSHIP Here!

—and the Finer Features it offers.

MANY persons do not realize that the plan of owning your own apartment home, as exemplified in the Los Altos, on Wilshire, at Bronson, has long been highly popular in the East . . . and that it is rapidly gaining in favor here.

One of the principle reasons, apart from the greater conveniences and freedom from unnecessary household labor which it makes possible, is the basic economy of the plan.

Here you are freed from a thousand and one little items of expense, which attach themselves to the individual home.

Such general and unavoidable upkeep expenses as are found necessary in any type of building—home or apartment—are "lumped," and what might virtually be termed "wholesale rates," are apportioned over each apartment. These costs are then much lower that way, of course.

There are a few of these delightful apartment homes yet available, purchasable at prices you probably did not dream to be possible. Investigate today.

KNAPP ARREST EXPECTED SOON

Pittsburgh Banker Thought Hiding Near By

Detective Squads Hasten to Point Near City

Reward for Missing Suspect
Made Larger

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18. (AP)—The arrest of Charles E. Knapp, who disappeared with $200,000 in cash Friday, and who is wanted in connection with a bond swindle which resulted in the closing of the Brotherhood Savings and Trust Company, a union labor bank, is imminent tonight, Detective Inspector Clyde McCreedy said.

The inspector, in charge of investigators growing out of the swindle, said he believes Knapp is in hiding within 100 miles of Pittsburgh. He sent a squad of detectives out by automobile, their destination unannounced.

Additional arrests in the case, expected by the authorities, failed to materialize today. Attempts representing three of the five men arrested in the case sought their release on a writ of habeas corpus during the day. A hearing will be conducted tomorrow morning. R. E. McCready, president of the bank, and who is under bond of $125,000 on a conspiracy charge, increased the reward he offered for Knapp to $1000 and said that he will give a bonus of 10 per cent for all money found on Knapp.

MCCREADY ACCUSED
McCready, it is charged, handed Knapp the $200,000, including $100,000 of the bank's funds, to purchase $800,000 worth of Liberty bonds, the securities, according to some detectives, being the property of John A. Bell, president of the bankrupt Carnegie Trust Company. Knapp took the cash and fled from a picture. Inspector McCreedy said it was possible Knapp also got away with the bonds.

Detective William Reese disclosed today that he had worked for several weeks to trap Knapp, who, he said, had offered to sell $2,500,000 worth of Liberty bonds at 35 cents on the dollar. He was told, the detective said, that Knapp had indicated the bonds were among the assets of John A. Bell.

OBTAINS SOME BONDS
Reese reported that he succeeded in obtaining some bonds from Knapp and that Federal operatives told him they were genuine. He said he tried to organize a pool to purchase all the bonds Knapp possessed to have, Knapp, he continued, insisted that the entire lot be purchased at once and, finally, after giving various excuses for failing to produce the bonds, the deal fell through, Reese said.

Today's writ of habeas corpus proceedings covered P. T. Redman, a broker, and J. L. Nelson and William Kelley, officials of the bank, who have been in jail since Saturday in default of bail ranging from $75,000 to $75,000. Court asserted their detention is "unlawful" and the bail excessive.

Working Knowledge of Plays and Numbers Invaluable to Football Players says Friedman

MEMORY COUNTS IN FOOTBALL

Must Keep Plays, Faces, and Numbers in Mind

Every Grid Squad Has Game Set in Advance

Great Quarterback Advises Study of Rivals

BY BENNY FRIEDMAN

Football memory counts for much. You must remember plays and the numbers by which these plays are designated. And you must remember faces.

Go into the conference room of any major-league eleven a few days before an important game and you will find a wall covered with diagrams and photographs. These are the plays that will be used in the coming Saturday and the men against whom they will be used, for the pictures are photographs of the next opponents.

Plays are prepared in advance of the season. Every team has its set of plays. They are designated by the coach or coaches and fit the general situation that may arise and do arise in games. Then, through the season, other plays are written. These are special plays, planned against certain opponents.

All important plays are diagrammed and the players are asked to study the diagrams. Here they discover just how every man is to move what every man is to do when the ball is snapped.

There is this about a diagrammed play: It may look like the proverbial $100,000 on paper, but prove to be a simple matter of a played trick when put into execution against certain teams.

When you work out a diagram you know what the offense will do, providing that every man does exactly what he is taught to do. But that is only half of what enters into successful execution; the other half is the defense.

On a certain play your tackle and end may be asked to box in an opposing player. If he does this, the entire play fails.

You never know what the defense will do on a certain play, especially a trick play. You know what they hope they will do, but they do not always respond to your expectations.

A smart play always works best against an experienced team, against a smart defensive combination. You can be fairly well certain of what an intelligent player will do, but you never know what a stupid opponent will do. The intelligent team will do the right thing; the unintelligent one may do the right thing, but they likely will do something entirely wrong and no coach can guess what it will be.

In football you may diagram a play, but you must know what the opponent will do. You have just about what every man is to do, but you must know how he will act to stop the play when it starts. Then, after you get every defense man moving in the direction you want him to move in and doing just what he is supposed to do, you suddenly switch into an entirely different action. You catch him off guard, you have him boxed in and blocked off and your runner moves ahead.

This same play, succeeding as well against the intelligent team, may fail against the team of little experience, or a team that has not been well coached. Several players will not do the right thing. They will move in the wrong direction. They will, as likely as not, through their very stupidity stop the play.

The team that makes the fewest mistakes should win any game where two teams of equal physical ability are engaged, but it has also happened that games have been won on blunders by the team that blundered. Winning a football game on a raw mistake is not unheard of.

Still, diagrams are necessary. You need them to coach the team. Your trick play can succeed only if all of your eleven men act in harmony, each doing the work assigned to him. I have seen games played because a single man failed to do what was asked of him.

An intelligent coach will never try the same offense twice. Twenty years ago a coach could do this. At that time there were comparatively few football teams of any consequence. It was not so long ago that Yale ruled the East and Michigan was king of the West, two teams of extraordinary physical power and skill. Superior to every team they met, it was possible for them to play the same way week after week and ride over all opposition because of their advantage in weight, strength and mechanical ability.

That day is gone in football. Now teams are nearly evenly matched. Not five major teams can go through a season without suffering at least one defeat. At time passes an increased number of good teams develop.

KEPPEN AND LOWRY

Charles Keppen and Paul Lowry triumphed in an interesting match in the round-robin handball tournament at the Los Angeles Athletic Club yesterday.

The score was 21 to 14, with Keppen and Lowry on the long end. Keppen and Lowry won the first set 11-5, and then took the second game, 21-10. The final score was 21-10.

Montana Track Phenoms Gain National Fame

UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA, MISSOULA, Oct. 18.—Russell Sweet, now with the San Francisco Olympic Club, and Arnold Gillette, national two-mile champion, are the two Montana athletes whose names will appear on the national honor roll for tracksters for 1926.

Sweet cut his time when he topped the 100-yard dash mark in the national championship at Springfield, stepping the century in 9.7.

Gillette's outstanding record-making performance of 2:07.7 in the mile and 8:30.4 in the two-mile won this national recognition for him.

Of the two, Little Arnie Gillette is the only one Coast conference runners will have to compete with next spring.

OBSERVATIONS

THIS is the big week when the boys and girls hock the family jewels in exchange for transportation to Berkeley to see what promises to be the first U.S.C. letter over California in many years. Certainly the stage is all set for a Trojan win—and on paper it looks like a sure thing. The U.S.C. ought to stop. But what looks like a sure thing on paper and what it will look like on the greenward at Berkeley are two entirely different things. The psychological advantage, to our way of thinking, is all with the Bears and if U.S.C. runs wild over them they'll be surprised, though we, of course, expect a Trojan victory.

The local "experts" persist in referring to the inability of the Trojans to score when they get the ball on the 10-yard line as a sign of weakness. As a matter of fact, there are very few teams which can and do succeed in scoring every time they threaten. It is an acknowledged fact that any team fights harder and better in the shadow of its own goal than it does in the shadow of the opponent's.

BOXING BOARD

OKAYS TAYLOR

There were expressions that titles should be won in the ring and not awarded by any governing body.

When Thomas J. Donohue, Connecticut commissioner, pointed out that Taylor was a former champion, the convention approved without dissent the bestowal of the championship upon Taylor.

The association also voted to accept the report of the referee prohibiting the interstate shipment of moving pictures of boxing contests.

In an effort to find means of financing the work of the national association, the convention decided to charge an annual fee of $1 for all boxers coming within the jurisdiction of the association.

The reported statement did not represent the sentiment of the Kansas commission.

BOXING SIGNED TO BOX AT YERON

Bud Taylor has been signed to box at Jack Dory's Yeron arena on the night of November 8. He is to appear in the main event of a benefit show being staged by American Legion Post 100, Young Men of Providence, R. I., will oppose Taylor. It will be the champion's first appearance here since he disposed of Dixie Lee Hood at the Olympic late last summer.

Unless some new phenom develops during the week in practice sessions, Coach Bill Spaulding will probably make no change in the Grizzly backfield for the Pomona game.

There is a possibility that a new phenom will develop during the week in practice sessions, but it is not likely that any change will be made in the backfield for the Pomona game.

At the present time Jim Hudson's condition is causing considerable worry to the coaches. Hudson, who was injured in the game against the Bears, is not likely to play in the game against the Trojans.

Comment on the Whittier defeat last Saturday, nor the Pomona game, is not likely to be made in the Coliseum, and the above information is purely speculative.

From Jack Hurley, manager of Billy Petrolle, I have just received a clipping of the decision of Sammy Mandell. In this connection Hurley draws a comparison between the home-town crowd which greeted Mandell and the 10,000 house which turned out when Petrolle boxed in his native town of Fargo, N. D., which boasts a population of only 10,000.

In a seductive way Hurley points out the difference in styles which is responsible for the victory of Petrolle and the unpopularity of Mandell, who has refused to meet Petrolle.

The greatest open-field run I ever saw happened in the 1920 Montana-Washington game," says Al Denahue, who was a member of the Montana football team.

BATTLESHIP WEST VIRGINIA WINS FIFTH DIVISION BOUTS

After losing the wrestling meet to the U.S.S. Colorado, 23 to 10, the U.S.S. West Virginia came back like a wounded lion and walked off with the boxing events by the score of 24 to 16 in the second interdivisional smother of the Fifth Battleship Division, held aboard the West Virginia Saturday night.

The batteries for the heavyweight bout were Jim Stafford of the West Virginia, pitching, and Larry Reed of the Colorado catching. In the first few rounds Reed seemed to have an edge in the fighting, but Stafford began piling up a big lead with rights to the head and body and a darting left jab to the face. He won the verdict handily.

Pedro De la Cruz, battle boat bantamweight champion, jabbed and right upper-cutted his way to an easy victory over Billy Kim of the Colorado in the fastest bout of the evening.

A Step Toward—What?

TWO antipathetic gunmen mutually agreed that carrying 44-caliber revolvers in their hip pockets was old-fashioned. They made mugs at each other and admitted that these weapons were expensive, clumsy, in a general way obsolete and too great a tax on their pockets, both actually and figuratively. So they promised each other to throw their forty-fours into the junk heap, and arm themselves with less costly weapons, of lighter weight, which would reduce the tax on their pockets.

CANADA HARMONIOUS OVER GOVERNOR-GENERAL ISSUE

Premier King Declares Dominion Will Not Mention Subject at London Imperial Parley

LONDON, Oct. 18. (AP)—Canada has no intention of raising the question of the relationship of the Governor-General to the dominion at the coming imperial conference which opens tomorrow, Premier King today asserted.

His statement was in reply to questions by British newspaper men with reference to the action of former Gov.-Gen. Byng in refusing to dissolve Parliament last June as advised by Mr. King, who subsequently resigned, only to be restored to power through the recent general election.

"We haven't any question respecting the Governor-General," Mr. King said. "any matters we had were domestic matters. We settled them ourselves. The Canadian people dealt with their own questions in their own way."

Mr. King also told newspaper men that there is no danger of Canada being annexed by the United States and that talk of such a possibility is purely party politics.

PARLEY OPENS TODAY
The official opening of the imperial conference tomorrow will be marked by the usual general statements, Premier Baldwin, the presiding officer, leading in the speechmaking, being immediately followed by Premier King as representing the senior dominion.

After the preliminary addresses, it is proposed to divide the conference into three main committees to deal with the following questions:

- (1) Foreign policy and defense.
- (2) Interimperial relations.
- (3) Economic questions.

Australia proposes to bring before the conference the question of the naturalization of married women. Roughly, the idea is that a woman marrying an alien should not acquire her British citizenship except by a declaration of alienage. At present, she takes her husband's nationality whether she wants to or not any time. One who does not, gives no such consent and for this reason the statute has no application to him.

QUESTIONS OF CITIZENSHIP
The question of a married woman's citizenship will have particular interest for Canadian girls who marry citizens of the United States. As a matter of fact, however, under the existing American law a Canadian girl marrying an American does not become a citizen of the United States until twelve months after marriage, and then only on her making a declaration to that effect. The result is that for the first year of her married life she has ceased to be British, owing to her marriage, and she is not yet an American. She is a woman without a country. In consequence of this there has been difficulty over passports, although the understandings in the two countries already have largely obviated this difficulty.

SOUTH AFRICAN PREMIER PEACEFUL
LONDON, Oct. 18. (AP)—J. B. M. Hertzog, the fiery Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa who once appeared politically hostile to everything British and the protagonist of South African separation from the empire, has come to the imperial conference of Prime Ministers with a more modified view.

That he is still far from satisfied with the status and position of South Africa within the British commonwealth, however, is indicated by his own opinion as to the main task of the imperial conference, which he says is "to have co-operation between the member states of the commonwealth placed upon a more certain and satisfactory basis."

NEWSPAPERS PLEASED
He has made the open declaration that "the union (of South Africa) has no wish to be anything else than a helpful associate in advancing the interests of the British community of nations."

The British press generally regards this statement hopefully as a change in Gen. Hertzog's attitude, while some papers assert that the possibilities of his office and the wider vision that it has given him have convinced him that he can best serve South Africa by maintaining and improving its position in the British Empire.

He is paid the tribute of being a man of high literary and legal attainments and a South African patriot of the same caliber as the late Gen. Botha and Gen. Smuts, even if the expression of his patriotism has been along different lines.

HOPE EXPRESSED
Speaking of the better co-operation which he hopes to obtain with the rest of the empire at the imperial conference, Gen. Hertzog says:

"If success in that respect is to result from out of its labor, questions of a fundamental nature affecting empire relations, both domestic and foreign, will have to be grappled with and decided."

"Fortunately, there is nothing revolutionary in any of the questions," he points out, "nothing that is not in the fullest harmony with the basis already laid. Given good will, courage and faith, we ought to be able to accomplish much that will insure permanency and harmony in all our relations for the future."

ILLINOIS BATTLE Over State Tax Goes to Capital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The $50,000,000 insurance-tax case brought from Chicago by the Hanover Fire Insurance Company was argued today before the Supreme Court. It is to test the authority of States to impose taxes on corporations of other States doing business within their borders when similar taxes are not imposed upon domestic corporations.

Charles E. Hughes, representing the insurance company, told his former colleagues on the Supreme bench that the tax is discriminatory and unconstitutional and cannot be defended. He insisted corporations organized outside a State have the right, by complying with the laws of the State, to engage in business in it on the same basis as companies incorporated by the State. He said it is strictly a property tax and invalid because not applied equally to all property in the country.

Counsel for the county insisted outside corporations came into the State knowing that such a tax would be imposed and that it is not open to them after locating to challenge the conditions under which they were admitted.

WARRANT IN STILL RAIDS DEMANDED

Court Rules Search Based on Odor of Mash Void and Returns Apparatus

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18. (AP)—United States District Judge Kerrigan ruled today that Federal prohibition officers have no authority to raid unregistered stills without a search warrant, merely because they detect the presence of mash or the odor of mash about such stills.

The ruling, while it affects but sixty cases in this Federal judicial jurisdiction is expected to have an effect on similar cases throughout the country.

In the case involved, that against Milton Swan of San Francisco, the defendant had held that he was raided and the still confiscated without proper search warrant, and merely on the evidence that the raiding agents had detected the odor of fermenting mash.

"In the case at bar the search was in no sense incidental to the arrest," Judge Kerrigan held. "Moreover it was entirely completed before any arrest was made."

"The distinction between this case and one of a registered distillery is broad and obvious. One who registers a still in effect consents to its being seized by proper officers at any time. One who does not, gives no such consent and for this reason the statute has no application to him."

The judge declared the statute null and void and ordered the still returned.

Attendance at High Schools in State Goes Up

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Enrollment in California high schools for the year 1925-26 was 897,489, an increase over the previous year of 36,217 pupils, according to a report issued today by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wood. The average cost per pupil in average daily attendance based on expenditures of $29,747,714 for operation was $191.10.

Of the total secondary-school enrollment, 190,399 are in the full-time schools, 36,217 in junior highs, 63,235 in special day and evening classes, 19,941 in compulsory part-time classes, 127,213 in evening schools and 2772 in junior colleges.

In addition to the $29,747,714 spent for the maintenance of the high schools, the various districts expended $18,231,821 for buildings and other improvements.

CONGREGATION WILL PARADE

Parade Planned on Eve of Pastor North's Murder Trial

PT. WORTH (Tex.) Oct. 18.
(AP)—The First Baptist Church
today announced a parade of the faithful, 10,000 strong, for the night of the 21st inst., eve of the trial of its fundamentalist pastor, Rev. Dr. J. Frank
Morris, on a charge of murder.

Dr. Morris shot and killed D.
E. Chippe, wholesale lumberman and friend of Mayor H. C.
Meehan, whom the pastor has attacked from the pulpit.

Stephenson was tried and convicted of murdering Miss Oberholser.

ONE OTHER WITNESS
John Maroney, a Department of Justice agent, was the only other witness. Maroney visited Stephenson recently at the State prison. His visit Federal officials said, was in connection with an investigation into inducement returned against Indiana Highway Commission officials which charged irregularities in the sale of surplus war materials turned over to the State by the Federal government.

Charges have been made that these inducements were "bribe."

Thomas H. Adams, publisher of the Vincennes (Ind.) Commercial who, with several associates, has been conducting an independent investigation of alleged corruption of State politics, opened offices here today to carry on a campaign for a thorough inquiry into the situation.

The charges by Adams and his colleagues brought about the grand jury investigation.

GUERLAIN

The Creams

SECRET de Bonne Femme is the alluring name of a fine cream made by Guerlain for the enhancement of beauty. It is smooth of texture and delightful to use.

Other creams include Cold Cream, Creme de Fraises, Baume de la Fete for chapped lips and Pate de Velours to be used in place of soap.

Face Lotions

ESPECIALLY worthy of mention are the Face Lotions of Guerlain known to so many women for their excellent soothing qualities.

The three lotions are Milk of Roses, Milk of Cucumber and Guerlain's Face Lotion.

Extracts

FOR their intriguingly delightful scents, Guerlain's perfumes are primarily noted.

Lasting odors trail a breath of sweetness, sweetness that is refreshing and not heavy.

Shalimar, one of the newest of Guerlain's perfumes achieves special favor with many. Other tantalizingly fragrant odors are:

Bouquet de Faunes, Jasmin, Champs-Elysees, L'Heure Bleue, Mitsouko, Guerlinade, Candide Effluve, Rue de la Paix, Apres l'Ondee, Mouchoir de Monsieur and others too numerous to mention.

ROUGES for the cheeks include Rose du Moulin and Compact Rouge in lovely shades.

For the lips Guerlain suggests Roi des Rouges, Rose Lip Bengaline, Ne m'oubliez pas, Extrait de Roses liquid and Liquid Bloom of Roses.

ENGINEER ENDS PERILOUS TASK*Government Surveyor Back from Mapping River*Little Colorado Accurately Charted First Time*Previous Plots Found to be Incorrect by Miles

PARADISE, Oct. 18.—E. C. La Rue, Pasadena engineer and head of the United States Geological Survey here, returned to this city today at the head of an expedition which, during the last three months, has been conducting a survey of the Little Colorado River, important tributary of the Colorado, and its water-power possibilities, for the Federal government. Mr. La Rue's party surveyed accurately for the first time in history 100 miles of the Little Colorado stream bed and he will now start figuring out the power possibilities of the river, which appear promising. Previous maps proved to be as far off as 16 miles in placing the river bed, he said today.

The engineers worked under considerable danger, principally from intermittent flood waters which rushed down the Little Colorado River Canyon between sheer walls which reached the height of 400 feet. Outposts gave warnings by telephone when the surveys were threatened. Quickdraws provided another hazard. Men and equipment were transported across the treacherous sands by means of sand balloons which the party brought with them. Another hardship was the fact that the explorers had to travel over 50 miles to the scene of their operations.

His potential dam sites in the Little Colorado were located by Mr. La Rue, he reported today. Many hitherto uncharted canyons were discovered, mapped and named by the local engineer, who is a well-known authority on hydraulic engineering.

After named which will go into the official records as a result of the expedition are Waterpocket Canyon, Bullhole Bend, Baldy Canyon and various trails named Indian Maiden, Mop, Pute, Horse, Salt, Blue Springs and Sheep.

In addition to Mr. La Rue and his assistant, George F. Holbrook, the party included J. L. Lewis, Jack Warren, Ed Woodruff, J. Deane, Curtis and Indian guides.

Shark Hooked Last Tuesday Finally Landed

NEWPORT, Oct. 18.—The killing here yesterday of a sixteen-foot shark weighing 2500 pounds is believed by John Gunther, Newport fisherman, to end a three-year battle between himself and the sea beast.

Three years ago Gunther and a boy companion were attacked by the shark while fishing from a small dory. The fisherman succeeded in driving the shark off with a net. Several days later Gunther has reported seeing the great fish. Tuesday of last week the animal became stranded in Gunther's dragnet hook.

Until yesterday afternoon all efforts to land the fish failed and it was dead when finally hauled from the water. It is on display here today. It shows scars as if from spear wounds.

EIGHT REDWOODS PUT IN SANCTUARY OF PINES

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 18.—Eight California Redwoods will stand as an eternal monument to the vision of a group of Bakersfield nature lovers who planted the first trees in the "sanctuary of the pines" in Fraser Mountain Park Sunday. Fitting ceremonies accompanied the planting of the soil where the trees stand. Dr. Willis G. White and Father J. L. Deasime spoke at the ceremony. The Bakersfield Garden Club, co-operating with the Civic Commercial Association and the National Automobile Club, sponsored the deed, following a suggestion first made by Mrs. J. L. Deasime. Mrs. Julia Deasime, who has been interested in the beautification of the district and forming of a nucleus for a arboretum for years.

DESERT HOUSE MYSTERIESRedlands Author Theorizes About Mansion Being Built by Death Valley Scotty

REDLANDS, Oct. 18.—Bruce McDaniels, head of the publicity department of the Mutual Orange Distributors, and author of two remarkable desert books which have just been published, has returned from a trip to Death Valley. While there he visited at the home of Death Valley Scotty, who is now in Chicago and who, before leaving, announced he intended to hire a special train for a record-breaking trip across the continent.

Persons in touch with Scotty's doings in recent months relative to the $300,000 concrete structure being built forty miles from Bristly have speculated at length as to whether the enterprise is to be a manor or winter resort. Those who know Scotty's vagaries are loath to believe that the quaint desert character is other than a picturesque prearranged yarn for A. Johnson, Chicago millionaire, who, it is said, owns the home.

Refuting this belief, yet ascribing an even queerer motive for the desert mansion, is Mr. McDaniels' version. The Redlands author and theorist feels that he has found the only true solution to the riddle and that this lies in a strange companionship between a man of one type and a woman of another type.

Scotty and Johnson. The one, filled to the brim with hilarity and humor; the other, a quiet millionaire who has found in the desert a place of contentment. It is known that Johnson's checks have paid for the material for the mansion's construction.

The concrete mansion is of hotel, resort or sanatorium proportions with fourteen garages and equipped with a refrigeration system that cools every room. Strange as it may seem, there is also a thorough heating system for winter nights. In Death Valley winter often brings sudden cold waves and even snow.

Couple Happy as Thief Takes Savings in VainLong Beach Revisers' Action Stirs City Employees*Uncurbed Discharge Power Given Officials*Civil Service Nullified by Rule, Say Opponents

SANTA ANA, Oct. 18.—Monday morning was dreary for Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dickinson, 1023 West Fifth street, but the sun began to shine clear and bright for them before the morning was old.

Saturday the couple went to Long Beach and, while Mrs. Dickinson's purse was lying on a counter in a 10-cent store, a thief removed $1500 in securities representing the savings of Mrs. Dickinson over a period of years. The securities were represented by Federal savings certificates, postal savings certificates, and Liberty bonds.

Today the Santa Ana postal authorities received the news that a record has been kept of their certificates and that duplicates will be issued.

All that the thief can get out of the "haul" is the money on the Liberty bonds, which amounted to about $250, including the interest represented by coupons. The other securities are not negotiable and cannot be transferred.

Simultaneously with the refusal of Graves to appear, attorneys for the bank and for John Francis Johnson, State Superintendent of Banks, who also a defendant, were served with notices by attorneys for the plaintiffs that fifteen former officers of the Valley Bank and other individuals connected with its operation will be sought to make depositions here in San Francisco in the next few days among them being Graves, W. D. Mitchell, first president and one of the founders of the bank, and one of the founders of the bank at the time it was absorbed by the defendant bank.

"HANDS OFF" ON BUS LINESLong Beach City Manager Warns Rival Business Interests Against Interference

LONG BEACH, Oct. 18.—Various improvement associations and other groups in Long Beach, who, realizing that the city is to undergo a complete change in its transportation system, are anxious to have bus lines routed along streets in which they are most interested, were warned today by City Manager Henderson that a "hands-off" policy will be strictly maintained by the city during the time negotiations are pending for the establishment of a new system here.

Boosters of various streets are mobilizing their forces for a contest over a routing of the bus lines, but the City Manager has instructed the City Engineer, whose task it will be to plan out a complete system of routes for the best interests of the city as a whole, to have the bus lines routed along streets in which they are most interested, were warned today by City Manager Henderson that a "hands-off" policy will be strictly maintained by the city during the time negotiations are pending for the establishment of a new system here.

FIGHT LOOMS ON CHARTER CLAUSELong Beach Revisers' Action Stirs City Employees*Uncurbed Discharge Power Given Officials*Civil Service Nullified by Rule, Say Opponents

LONG BEACH, Oct. 18.—Radical changes in existing municipal civil service rules as recommended by the civil service committee of the Board of Freeholders, now engaged in revising the city charter, will be the subject of a fight which, the city split, it is feared here by those who are in close touch with charter revision work.

Although every phase of charter provision as it affects a municipality is being considered by the Board of Freeholders, the power to suspend and remove city employees from work under civil service in its present form is a controversial issue. The existing system of appointing employees from regularly certified civil service lists should be retained, the power to discharge appointees who may prove inefficient or unsatisfactory should be vested in the Board of Freeholders, the opponents of the various municipal departments.

Under existing civil service conditions inability of the City Manager or department heads to remove inefficient employees has handicapped municipal administration in Long Beach, it is declared. The report was submitted by George W. Winters, chairman of the civil service committee.

The recommendation, Mr. Winters pointed out, is not final, but is submitted in order to get the question of civil service rules before the public and bring out an expression of opinion by which the freeholders may be guided in revising the civil service rules in the new charter. A public hearing is to be held on the subject in the near future, at which all persons interested may express their views.

Mr. Winters said that the recommendation is that "any officer or employee in the classified service who is inefficient, suspended, laid off or reduced in grade by the head of the department in which he is employed for any cause which will promote the efficiency of the service. But he must first be furnished with a written statement of the reasons therefor and be allowed a reasonable time for answering such reasons in writing, which answer, if so required, shall be made a part of the record of the civil service board and he may be suspended until the date when such written statement of reasons is furnished him. No trial or examination of witnesses or evidence in such cases, except in the discretion of the officers making the removal. In all cases the removal shall be subject to the approval of the City Manager."

COTTON GINNING AT MEXICALI INCREASES

MEXICALI, Oct. 18.—Cotton ginnings here during the last week amounted to 4000 bales, bringing the total for October to 18,474. This is nearly 2000 more bales than had been turned out on the same date last year. The gin leads the week with 2035 bales. Picking is now under way all over the district. Unusually warm October weather is making a good crop of late cotton, according to field men, and there is every indication that the yield per acre will be higher than for several seasons. The Yuma and Gila districts report a total of 12,500 bales up to Saturday night.

LOBBY-FUND PLAN REJECTEDSan Bernardino Supervisors Refuse to Vote Money to Support Swing-Johnson Bill

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 18.—Viewing the proposal of the Boulder Dam Association that the county buy advertising in the association's magazine at a sum of $10,000, the board of supervisors today rejected a request by the Chamber of Commerce that the county participate in the $17,000 campaign at Washington in support of the Swing-Johnson bill.

The request by the chamber was not without reservations. Secretary Mack stated at the supervisors' conference that the business men were not asking the board to do what is interpreted as illegal, but urged financial support, if it were legally possible to appropriate the funds, to the association's program.

The chamber committee acted at the request of the association, which is a sale of advertising space in support of the lobbying campaign. The chamber committee requested a $10,000 appropriation for Los Angeles county, $1000 each for Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange, and $4000 for Imperial county.

Orange county, it was announced, had purchased space in the magazine for $10,000. The chamber committee requested a $10,000 appropriation for Los Angeles county, $1000 each for Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange, and $4000 for Imperial county.

TRIAL OF GOODWIN DELAYEDAsserted Priest Accused of Murder Given Day of Grace as Counsel Absent

SANTA ANA, Oct. 18.—(Exclusive)—Father and apparently somewhat nervous, Philip A. Goodwin, actor and purported priest of the American Catholic church, charged with the murder of Joseph J. Patterson, appeared in Judge Marks' Superior Court at 10 a.m. today for trial and heard the judge continue his case until 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Goodwin's attorney did not appear, and after a telephone conversation with J. W. Smith, Los Angeles attorney whom Goodwin said he had engaged to defend him, Judge Marks granted the continuance. Smith is said to have told Judge Marks that he will be in communication with the defendant some time today. Goodwin has broken relations with David J. Johnson, attorney for the state, several weeks ago at the preliminary examination, and they did not appear today.

The asserted priest told the court today he had obtained the services of Attorney Smith and did not know where he was. Judge Marks then the telephone conversation between Judge Marks and Smith took place, resulting in the continuance. Goodwin, although attempting to show compliance throughout the several minutes that he was in the courtroom, could not keep his hands from shaking and his face and hands were plainly shown to be in a state of nervousness.

Albert Gaines, star witness for the prosecution and codefendant of Goodwin, was brought to Santa Ana today from a jail outside the city, where he has been kept since his arrest in Montana a month ago.

The courtroom was only partially filled with spectators. Judge Marks remarked that his court was in session tomorrow morning, except in the case of Goodwin, who was brought to Santa Ana today from a jail outside the city, where he has been kept since his arrest in Montana a month ago.

MONROVIA, Oct. 18.—James H. Ashby, 70 years of age, prominent middle-western business man, who was connected with the Union Stockyards of Chicago for forty-six years, died here last night. He had no immediate relatives, and had made his home in Monrovia for twenty-five years. Mr. Ashby still held several business connections in Chicago. Besides his stockyard interests, he was president and director of the North-Western Manufacturing Company and the American Building and Loan Association, and a director of the Live Stock Exchange National Bank, the Stockyards Savings Bank and the Union Rendering Company.

HOSPITAL FIGHT WARMTulare Supervisors in Lively Bout Authorize Project

VISALIA, Oct. 18.—Chambers of the Tulare County Board of Supervisors at the Courthouse here were crowded with delegates from all sections of the county this morning when the matter of the proposed $200,000 new Tulare County Hospital came up for decision. In reality called by the board to pass on the specifications for the new hospital, this meeting assumed something of the atmosphere of a battle ground, yet no blood was shed.

Arguments pro and con for the hospital were thick and fast. Plans and specifications as prepared by Kump & Johnson of Fresno were for the formal opening Wednesday afternoon of the second annual Walnut and Flower Show which will continue daily until Saturday night. It is being presented under the joint auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association.

Aside from the walnut and flower exhibit, which include some of the finest community displays ever entered in any fair, there is a complete program daily, which features vaudeville numbers and music, with a fashion show each evening. The vaudeville includes some of the finest acts possible to obtain from the leading vaudeville circuits. Displays in the show are entered by Santa Barbara, Ventura, Oxnard, Santa Paula and Moorpark, the Lompoc and many leading agricultural and commercial institutions of the county.

SAN DIEGO FUND TEST PREPAREDState Warrant to be Drawn for Detective Fee*Will Determine Status of Inquiry Financing*Prosecutor Says Wills Are Legal County Charge

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 18.—A warrant drawn by Atty.-Gen. Webb against the $5000 secret fund provided by law for use of the District Attorney will be the means of determining whether the county will have to pay the $5000 bill recently presented by the San Diego Detective Agency of Los Angeles for services to the San Diego county grand jury, according to a plan made by ex-Judge W. A. Sloane, special assistant attorney-general, and Albert J. Lee, legal adviser for the County Board of Supervisors.

Sloane appeared before the Supervisors in behalf of the firm and asked whether there was any money left in the $5000 secret fund, and Lee answered that the fund was intact. That the $5000 would not be sufficient was indicated by Sloane.

"Two or three grand juries," he said, "have been held in San Diego since the present grand jury, but have been handicapped by the serious lack of funds. I am taking my job seriously in prosecution of these cases and I do not propose to allow the grand jury to be railroaded out of court."

"Whatever sums are necessary, $10,000, $20,000, or $30,000, to go to the bottom of the grand jury, should be supplied and the investigations carried through to final clearing of the names of officials indicted or to their punishment if found guilty."

To the statement by Supervisor Hurley that the county budget does not include any fund that can be drawn upon for such purposes, Sloane responded that such charges would be paid, nevertheless.

Construction of Highway Link Begins TodayState Warrant to be Drawn for Detective Fee*Will Determine Status of Inquiry Financing*Prosecutor Says Wills Are Legal County Charge

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 18.—With the last preliminary completed, intensive work on the connecting link between the station and the State highway to Los Angeles will start Tuesday. County Surveyor Fulmore reported today. The Hall-Johnson Company, which was awarded the contract, already has its equipment on the scene, together with sufficient material to commence operations.

Although the terms of the contract allow ninety days in which to complete the work, it is probable that not more than two months will be required, Fulmore believes. Paving of the stretch will be made easier, he stated, because more than one-half of the five-mile total runs on Garces street, a dirt road in fair condition.

Construction of this link is being made with the ultimate intention of carrying the pavement through to Arlington, this providing an improved artery from the Riverside station to the State highway, a total distance of about nine miles. It is probable, according to Fulmore, that the link between the station and the State highway will be completed by the end of the year.

Rich milling silver-lead ore has been encountered in magnitude by Big Jim mine, Inc., in the property in the Patagonia district, Santa Cruz county, Arizona, and the strike promises to be the most important in that territory since the discovery on the "Three M" property years ago. A. G. Keating, president of Big Jim, stated yesterday on his return to Los Angeles after a trip to the mine.

In striking the main working shaft, a body of solid sulphide ore of high milling grade was encountered at a depth of 283 feet. The shaft now has penetrated this ore body for a depth of fifteen feet, and there is no indication as to how much thicker the body will be, mining engineers state.

PICTURE STOCKS WIN FAVOR

Now Supplanting Oils as Speculative Performers in Market; Invest Less in Fixed Assets

BY EARLE E. CROWE

From the point of view of the speculator, the motion-picture stocks have virtually usurped the position of the oil shares formerly held. There is nothing mysterious about it, either. Followed the natural order of progress, the petroleum companies for the purpose of stabilization, reached out from the original activity of producing crude oil to incorporate all phases of the business, and now are largely manufacturing and marketing companies. Motion-picture companies, as a group, are still in the primary zone of the cycle.

In the days of Mexican Petroleum it was the gamble in the discovery and production of oil that lent the speculative tincture to the oil shares. Traders in the stock market still remember of this stock's sensational spurts and declines, mostly influenced by news from the field. With the others of its class Mexican Petroleum is now a part of a picture stock market that has invested large sums of money in refineries, service stations, equipment, real estate and other enterprises that go with the activities of a well-balanced business corporation.

EUROPE KEY TO COPPER SITUATION

Col. Thompson of Magma Company Gives Views on Return to Arizona

PHOENIX, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Col. William B. Thompson, returning to spend the winter at his home near Superior, expressed belief that little change will be known in the Arizona copper situation until the discovery of the European market.

Formerly it was the oil company with a record of finding production in the United States that attracted the speculative following in the market. Likewise it is now the picture company that is the best of the picture stock market. The picture stock market is now the picture stock market. The picture stock market is now the picture stock market.

The comparative freedom of the picture industry from investments in fixed assets is illustrated in the Standard Oil Company of California and Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, both leaders in their respective industries. Of the $567,072,111 in total assets reported by the Standard Oil Company on January 1, 75 per cent were in the form of fixed assets. Famous Players-Lasky showed total assets of $24,741,711, of which only 42 per cent were fixed assets.

POSSIBILITIES GREATER.
The difference between these two percentages indicates the speculative possibilities that divides the two industries. It does not mean that the picture industry is more speculative than the oil industry. The significance is that the stockholder in the picture industry has greater possibilities of gain and loss than the stockholder in the oil industry.

The trend in the motion-picture business, however, is in the direction of diversification of activities. Greater stabilization has been achieved by some of the larger companies through entire ownership of the exhibition end of the business. Strictly by lease or purchase, requiring the diversion of large sums from operations into fixed investments. While the result is greater assurance of satisfactory earnings, the conversion of circulating capital into fixed assets naturally suppresses some of the speculation.

Branching into the theater business, however, still leaves the picture industry free from the necessity of building costly plants and buying expensive equipment to mark up its product. With this margin in their favor the picture stocks probably will continue to attract the speculators with a fair rapid action.

ONCE, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—The manifesto regarding European trade barriers will be published Wednesday, urging a total change in the European trade policy necessary to restore credit, imports and business in both political and business circles are expected, owing to the important significance.

French exchange was firm as a result of the Paris announcement that the Morgan credit had been restored after practical disputation, previous to attempts to sustain the franc.

The market opened steady with little business being transacted. China and Brazilian bonds were harder. Tokyo obligations sold at a premium of a point.

BUSINESS PHILOSOPHY

BY WILLIAM FRATHER

LET'S try to get our thrills out of creative accomplishment, instead of seeking them through the popular shortcuts.

Life's most heroic gesture is courageously and graciously to descend from a higher to a lower income.

Most businesses are big because big men are behind them.

No joy is comparable to that which comes from doing your job well.

California Petroleum Places Million Dollar Policy on President

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Walter Lagmann, who has won a name for himself and for the Carnikow-Ronda Company through the compilation of sugar statistics, believes that the Cuban President, Gen. Machado, should put a limit on the amount of sugar to be made in 1937.

If restriction was needed last year, it is just as necessary this year. As market without restriction in Cuba in 1926-27 as it was in 1925-26, or even more uniform. President Machado, at least that is what this authority says, and he offers some interesting figures to back up the points of the argument. The world's total production of sugar has increased about 6,000,000 tons since the war, or from 18,482,478 in 1913-14 to 24,413,232 in 1928-29. Best production stands almost precisely where it did, so that the gain has been entirely in the cost of production, mostly from Cuba and Java.

It is reckoned that world consumption has increased about in the same amount that production has grown, and it is significant prices for the commodity average about the same as those for 1913-14. Mr. Lagmann reckons that the volume of production is not by any means the only factor in the determination of prices. Three very important factors are (1) the demand for Cuba's from the United States; (2) the European requirements of cane sugar; and (3) the situation in the Far East. Perhaps the best way to predict the market movement in the commodity is to determine the exportable surplus of sugar that is available for the competitive markets.

Of the total output this year more than half, 12,555,000 tons, must be set aside in any statistical computation for consumption at home by the different producing countries. Of what remains about 2,840,000 of the 1928-29 production, it is figured, should be assigned as exports to what may be termed the permanent markets. The balance of the world's sugar production for this year, 2,833,000 tons, is what enters the competitive market. It is this exportable surplus that governs pretty largely the price of the commodity in the world markets, and says Mr. Lagmann, this "2,833,000 tons" has exerted a greater influence than the world's total production in unsetting the sugar market of the world.

On the future this expert makes the following comment:

SUGAR EXPERT GIVES VIEW

Walter Lagmann Suggests Advisability of Limiting Cuban Cane Production to Protect Industry

THE LANCER
By Harry Carr
For a week this great nation has stood agape because a famous jurist—suffering from loss of memory—has discovered that he used to be a Brooklyn cook.
The one note of importance and tragedy to this story is that he will probably resume cooking—adding one more punk cook to the world's overplus.

MURDER AS A SPORT
Chicago's appeal for aid from the Federal government against the murderous gun men is a horrifying warning.
Chicago is in some respects the most important city in the United States. And it has become a jungle. Various police reasons have been assigned. Everybody knows the real reason. It is reaping the whirlwind—the harvest sown by the lowest scum of Europe.
We are now carefully handicapping our immigration; but it is too late.

EXTREMISM THE BREED
All that remains now is to undertake a bitter and unrelenting warfare against the underworld. To stop glorifying crooks; to show the door to hobo authors; to up hold the police; and to inflict savage and terrible punishment upon policemen who are faithless.

In the time of Henry VIII in England the gallows waited overnight. Death followed crime. But England has been a country shamelessly free from crime ever since. Unfortunately this is no longer practical.
The reformation of criminals is a beautiful dream. Science knows that the brain does not come out of the head. The brain is purified only by extermination. And how is the stable to be cleaned?

TRIBUTE TO A HERO
"Black Jack" Pershing has been honored by the American Legion.
When we get far enough from the World War to see straight, Pershing comes to have been one of the biggest men of the Allied armies. No general on either side showed military genius. There was no strategy. Organization and efficiency were all that was possible.
Pershing was a tip-top soldier man—the trained chauffeur of a finely tuned machine. History will show that scrambling together an army of civilians; getting it to the battlefields of Europe in shape to fight was a feat without precedent or previous example.
"J. J." knew his stuff.

THE DEER MASSACRE
To my personal belief, the deer-hunting season is over.
The massacre of the wild game of Southern California is horrible. Old Indians have told me that they can remember when the plains before San Jacinto were so swarming with deer that the great herds did not even stop grazing when the Indians killed the few bucks they needed for food.
Antelope Valley used to be alive with deer.
It is a plain fact the white man and some of the lower forms of despoils are the only creatures low enough in the social scale to kill for the pleasure of seeing things die.

CONFISCATED CRAFT SELLS BELOW VALUE
United States Marshal Bittel's customary seductive tones failed him yesterday when he auctioned off the gas screw vessel A.R.A., which had been confiscated at $2500, for $2000. The successful bidder was S. Swenson. The boat was seized near Laguna Beach, with three aboard, about May. Capt. John De Eusew and his crew of coast guardsmen, who made the seizure, later were court-martialed for alleged falsifying of reports.

Dead Lawyer Quoted by Girl as Saying Evangelist Would Accept "Anything" to Back Up Story; One Witness Remains for Prosecution

Although his lips are sealed by death, R. A. McKinley, blind Long Beach attorney killed recently in an automobile crash, spoke yesterday in Municipal Judge Blake's court at the preliminary hearing of Aimee Semple McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, on conspiracy charges. Mr. McKinley was convinced, after considerable negotiations with them, that the evangelist was trying to hoodwink her mother and that the latter was unaware of her daughter's true whereabouts during the time of her disappearance from May 18 until June 23, last.

Mr. McKinley spoke yesterday through the lips of his secretary, pretty Miss Bernice Morris when the court permitted her to relate conversations she had pertaining to the McPherson matter with McKinley, for whom she served as "eyes" while he lived.

"You never could have told me in the world could have told me before tonight that the old lady (Mrs. Kennedy) was not into this business but now I believe that as sure as God makes me live that she is absolutely innocent, and that Aimee is trying to fool her mother more than she is anybody else in the world."

Miss Morris said Mr. McKinley told her this on his return from a visit to the Temple when the evangelist is said to have identified a picture of Joe Watt, Long Beach resident, as "Sieve," of the abductors she mentioned in her kidnapping story.

Allan and Lawyer Clash on Cemetery Proposal

Hall Vetoes Order Ejecting Verheyen from Rooms

Three Councilmen Walk Out Following Turmoil

Councilman Allan and A. J. Verheyen, attorney for W. A. Clark, Jr., clashed yesterday afternoon in the Council chamber at one of the most exciting hearings held at the City Hall in many years. Councilman Allan ordering the sergeant-at-arms to remove the attorney from the room only to be overruled by Councilman Hall, chairman of the City Planning Committee before which the hearing was being held.

The Hall-Verheyen incident caused such an uproar among the crowd of several hundred men and women which filled the Council chamber that Councilman Criswell, a member of the committee, halted the meeting as a protest against the manner in which the hearing was proceeding. Councilman Allan and Hughes also left the Council chamber in approval of Councilman Criswell's action.

TIFF WITH ALLAN

The question before the committee was the application of the Hollywood Cemetery to some for business buildings the Santa Monica Boulevard frontage of the cemetery. Late in the afternoon, Councilman Allan, who is not a member of the committee, went into the Council chamber and talked to Councilman Criswell. Whereupon Attorney Verheyen, representing the cemetery, also left the Council chamber in approval of Councilman Criswell's action.

QUITTING CHAMBER

"If that's the way you are going to conduct this hearing," said Councilman Criswell, "I am going to quit." And he did, leaving the Council chamber.

Councilman Hughes, who sat within the Council chamber as a spectator at the hearing, said he is not a member of the committee, said, "I protest against this bullying by an attorney."

"It was not bullying," replied Attorney Verheyen, heatedly. Whereupon Councilman Hughes left the Council chamber and the uproar caused among the spectators by the situation subsided.

The hearing was surcharged with tense feeling throughout. Most of the spectators were in the Hollywood Cemetery and there were many clashes and personalities engaged in between Attorney Verheyen and Frank Herson, manager of the cemetery.

LETTER READ

After the storm occasioned by the clash between Councilman Allan and Attorney Verheyen had subsided the trouble soon began again when Mr. Herson charged that a letter had been stolen from his personal files. This Attorney Verheyen denied, saying the letter was in the files of the Hollywood Cemetery, of which Mr. Herson is president. Mr. Verheyen started to read the letter and then Mr. Herson, who said he was ashamed of having stolen the letter, stopped him.

REALTY CHIEF SOLD ON CITY

Robert Jemison, Jr., Finds it Worth Long Trip to See Southland's Amazing Growth

"It is worth traveling thousands of miles to witness the enormous development that has occurred in Los Angeles and Southern California since my last visit here, four years ago, and I am at a complete loss for words to describe the thrill and inspiration the visualization has given me."

This high tribute was paid last night by Robert Jemison, Jr., president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, who, with Mrs. Jemison, is stopping at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles.

Mr. Jemison is in Birmingham, Ala., and came to Los Angeles to attend the annual meeting of the California Real Estate Association, held at the Biltmore Hotel last week. The national association includes 807 boards which have 26,000 members.

WAGNER GEM ENDS SEASON

"Die Walkure" Sung With Superb Artistry Before Most Discriminating Opera Audience

Richard Wagner's majestic music-drama "Die Walkure" last night closed the season of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association as a climactic and triumphant accomplishment. The most difficult and unusual work in the repertoire of the organization, it was the most anticipated, and brought forth the greatest audience during the full two weeks series of productions.

What a satisfaction once again to hear one of the great works of the master of the blending of the poetical, spiritual and the lyrical! The occasion was one of the memorable events here in fully a decade, and undoubtedly drew one of the most musical and discriminating of public—a public that has perhaps been literally starved for full-fledged creation by an artistic conqueror.

To my best recollection "Die Walkure" has not been presented in Los Angeles since the Chicago Grand Opera Company—it was sung by the

THE LANCER

By Harry Carr

For a week this great nation has stood agape because a famous jurist—suffering from loss of memory—has discovered that he used to be a Brooklyn cook.

The one note of importance and tragedy to this story is that he will probably resume cooking—adding one more punk cook to the world's overplus.

Chicago's appeal for aid from the Federal government against the murderous gun men is a horrifying warning.

Chicago is in some respects the most important city in the United States. And it has become a jungle. Various police reasons have been assigned. Everybody knows the real reason. It is reaping the whirlwind—the harvest sown by the lowest scum of Europe.

We are now carefully handicapping our immigration; but it is too late.

EXTREMISM THE BREED

All that remains now is to undertake a bitter and unrelenting warfare against the underworld. To stop glorifying crooks; to show the door to hobo authors; to up hold the police; and to inflict savage and terrible punishment upon policemen who are faithless.

In the time of Henry VIII in England the gallows waited overnight. Death followed crime. But England has been a country shamelessly free from crime ever since. Unfortunately this is no longer practical.

The reformation of criminals is a beautiful dream. Science knows that the brain does not come out of the head. The brain is purified only by extermination. And how is the stable to be cleaned?

TRIBUTE TO A HERO

"Black Jack" Pershing has been honored by the American Legion.

When we get far enough from the World War to see straight, Pershing comes to have been one of the biggest men of the Allied armies. No general on either side showed military genius. There was no strategy. Organization and efficiency were all that was possible.

Pershing was a tip-top soldier man—the trained chauffeur of a finely tuned machine. History will show that scrambling together an army of civilians; getting it to the battlefields of Europe in shape to fight was a feat without precedent or previous example.

"J. J." knew his stuff.

THE DEER MASSACRE

To my personal belief, the deer-hunting season is over.

The massacre of the wild game of Southern California is horrible. Old Indians have told me that they can remember when the plains before San Jacinto were so swarming with deer that the great herds did not even stop grazing when the Indians killed the few bucks they needed for food.

Antelope Valley used to be alive with deer.

It is a plain fact the white man and some of the lower forms of despoils are the only creatures low enough in the social scale to kill for the pleasure of seeing things die.

CONFISCATED CRAFT SELLS BELOW VALUE

United States Marshal Bittel's customary seductive tones failed him yesterday when he auctioned off the gas screw vessel A.R.A., which had been confiscated at $2500, for $2000. The successful bidder was S. Swenson. The boat was seized near Laguna Beach, with three aboard, about May. Capt. John De Eusew and his crew of coast guardsmen, who made the seizure, later were court-martialed for alleged falsifying of reports.

written the letter, read it. The letter was from Mr. Heron to Councilman Allan and related to Mr. Heron's battle in the Council to obtain business zoning of the Santa Monica Boulevard frontage of the cemetery. The letter was as follows:

"Dear Bob: I am almost worn out with my fight but expect to see Mr. Letts and Mr. McNaughton through the aid of Mr. Philip before my proposition goes before the Council. I also have a call and a letter to Mr. Clark, and hope to reach him before the contest."

"I am sure of the following vote: Randall, Allan, Workman, Sanborn, Zahn, Barnes, Jacobson."
"Fairly sure of Criswell and Hughes."
"The latter has promised to vote for us, but gets cold feet when he talks with others."

"Confidentially, the Mayor has promised to see Hall, Sparks and Shaw. Hall had shown some inclination to stand by McNitt."

"Dave Carroll also has promised to see Sparks and Shaw for me."

"Through a mutual friend, I had an interview with Mr. Jacobson, who listened very courteously. When I had finished, he asked how Bob Allen stood on the matter. I told him you were for me and he said, 'All right, if that is so, you can count on my original confidence in him.'"

"I have an appointment with Mr. Allen, who will listen but doesn't seem very friendly. I am reaching him through a mutual friend in his bank."

"Do you know how I can get at Mr. Moore, and can you give me any help with either Sparks, Moore, Shaw, Ash or Criswell?"

"I had a card to Mr. Golden from Mr. Van Norman, but Golden almost insulted me and wouldn't let me talk to him. I shall make no further attempt to reach him, but if you can suggest any help with the others, I will appreciate it."

"The letter, as given a pep into the minds of City Hall manipulators, was greeted with much laughter by the crowd."

In the excitement resulting from the row between Councilman Allan and Attorney Verheyen and the reading of the Heron-to-Alban letter, the original controversy over the business zoning was lost sight of and Councilman Hall adjourned the meeting with the announcement that the committee will take the matter under advisement.

GIST OF DISPUTE.
In brief, President Heron, on behalf of the cemetery association, said the cemetery is controlled by the problem of maintaining the beauty of the cemetery with an annual income. He said the only solution is in building business buildings along the Santa Monica frontage of the cemetery to increase the income of the cemetery, protect it from the city building rapidly around the cemetery, and to build up a fund for the perpetual care of the property.

This view was disputed by Attorney Verheyen on the part of lot owners in the cemetery who gave data from the four years the cemetery has held its stockholders at the rate of 10 per cent a year, that this rate of lot has been adequate, and that the zoning of the Santa Monica Boulevard frontage with business buildings would be an injustice to the lot owners who have invested large sums in monuments and lot ornamentation. Mr. Verheyen pointed out that Mr. Clark's investment of $1,000,000 in the cemetery, and that $250,000 and included a lake and

Homer Millsap
Perjury Charge
Retrial Starts
Task of selecting a jury to hear the testimony in the second trial of Homer O. Millsap, an attorney, who is accused of perjury, was started yesterday in Judge McCloskey's court.

The jury in the first trial last December failed to agree and was discharged by Judge Retts.

Millsap is charged with committing perjury in verifying an answer to a civil suit filed against him in 1923 by Ida A. Morgan-Clark, a former client.

It was estimated yesterday it will take six weeks to retry the case.

Vermont Award
Objectors Have Court Hearing
Hearing of objections to the report of the board of referees in the proposed widening of Vermont avenue from Wilshire Boulevard to Hollywood Boulevard was started yesterday before Superior Judge Craig.

The proposed widening is part of the major traffic project and is designed to alleviate congested traffic conditions on the cross-city avenue.

Most of the property owners whose land will be condemned for the widening of the street have agreed to the price fixed by the board of referees. It was stated.

The widening of the street will entail a total outlay of more than $1,000,000, it was said.

"TAKE TIME TO VOTE" urges the league for bigger and better votes.
Take it from us, you'll have to take time to vote at the coming election or you simply can't vote. Judging from the length of the sample ballot, it will take not only a lot of time, but considerable numbers of physical endurance and determination of purposes for Mr. and Mrs. Voter to have anything at all adequate to say on this ballot.

The instructions at the top of the ballot are: "Mark ballot only with rubber stamp; never with pen or pencil."

It was a far-seeing election commission or legislature that provided that instruction. You would wear your pencil out and the ink in your fountain pen would run dry long before you reached the end of this ballot.

This ballot is really a veritable masterpiece. Should the voter despair of ever reaching the end of it after an hour of marking in the election booth, he can roll it up and take it home and use it in his papering the front room.

It will make ideal material and is simply large to make a dress pattern.

The large ballot is 27 1/2 by 24 inches and the smaller is 14 1/2 by 12, making a grand total of 6,975 square inches crammed full of civic problems and names of ambitious candidates.

An extra force of election officials and workers will be required not only to have the count completed before Christmas, but to assist women and men of advanced years in marking their ballots to and from the booths in order to begin the marking. (It will be noted that we assume that the voter will only begin to mark the ballot. Whether or not he will finish is problematical.)

Of course, there is reason for the ballot being so long. The voter will have to select the right man from a list of some thirty candidates for various State and county offices. He will have to vote on some fifty-eight propositions of city-proposed, city and municipal bond measures.

In addition to this, there are a number of propositions dealing with pensions and increases of salaries for various public employees.

Despite the large total of the bond issues, there are a number of proposals on the ballot to exempt this person or that person or property from taxation. It all works out nicely. We will vote to raise a lot of money and then we will vote to exempt everybody and everything from taxes, and so what we haven't got we can't spend.

There is another consolation in the fact the voter will have plenty of light reading matter before him. Everything from the question of whether or not the dogs in Los Angeles shall be led on a chain to whether or not forest trees shall be exempt from taxation. Offhand, we will all agree probably that the young forest trees should be exempted from taxes inasmuch as their parents, thousands upon thousands of them, had to sacrifice themselves to furnish the voter with paper from which to make the precious long ballot.

SHRINE CLUB PROGRAM.
With nearly two weeks left to arrange the final details, major plans have been completed for the Bon Tempe Halloween ball to be staged by Al Malachuk State Club, Saturday evening, the 30th inst., in the Shrine Civic Auditorium ballroom. It will be the first ball given by members of the Shrine since the opening of the edifice last January. The affair will be open to the public and the proceeds will be used to make the final payment on the pipe organ in the auditorium.

SPECIALIST TESTIFIES FOR WOOD

Pasadenan Seeks to Prove Wife Unfit for Custody of 10-Year-Old Daughter

If all the charges made by Templeton W. Wood, wealthy Pasadena against Matilda Evelyn Wood, his former wife, are true, Mrs. Wood is an "incurable dipsomaniac," in the opinion of Dr. Victor J. Parkin, physician, who was called yesterday as a witness in Judge Keeler's court, where Wood and his former wife are engaged in a bitter contest over the custody of their 10-year-old daughter, Marguerite.

Dr. Parkin's opinion was expressed in reply to a hypothetical question framed by J. W. Morin, attorney for Wood. The question included charges made by Wood that his former wife indulged in drinking, associated with men other than Wood while she was still his wife, attended public dance halls and otherwise misconducted herself.

In answer to another hypothetical question Dr. Parkin stated a person who might have reformed from the practices charged to Mrs. Wood could not give definite and positive assurance that he or she might not repeat the same sort of tactics.

Wood is seeking to have the daughter removed from the care or custody of his former wife on the ground Mrs. Wood is an unfit person. The case is scheduled to be resumed this morning before Judge Keeler.

While each agency will continue to operate under its own name, additional advertising service is now available for the clients of each agency.

Judge Severs
Knot but Fails to End Enigma
There is a mystery somewhere in the matter of the marital conduct of Arthur H. Penner. Judge Hollister agreed with Attorney F. M. Sturges on this point, after listening to the tale told by Sturges's client, Mrs. Penner.

Really, there are two mysteries. Come to that, there are three mysteries, the third being what is all the mystery.

In the first place, according to Mrs. Penner, her husband, if he wanted to be rid of her, was. They had their marriage annulled, because they discovered he had received his final decree from his first wife. Then, she wanted to know, why did he marry her all over again?

And then she asked further, why had he gone to all this trouble to get firmly married to her, why did he get up from his breakfast table one morning, remark that he was leaving permanently, and fail to come back?

"I'm afraid I cannot answer these questions," Judge Hollister said. "However, I can tell you you were deceived. Decree granted."

One of the largest illicit liquor plants uncovered in recent months was confiscated yesterday by county officers under Deputy Sheriff Benton on a small farm near Newhall.

The officers arrested Luke Probst and Joe Selarno.

MOTHER TO GET DYING WISH
Attorney's Wife Who Killed Self and Three Children Will Be Cremated With Little Ones

The dying wish of Mrs. Ada B. Chamberlain, who Friday night snuffed out with gas the lives of her three children and herself, will be granted today when the four bodies are cremated after services at 11 o'clock in the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

John M. Chamberlain, attorney and husband of the perpetrator of the tragedy, likely will not be present when the last service is read over the bodies by Dr. E. E. Haim, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of which they were members.

FATHER FROSTBATED
Mr. Chamberlain, who collapsed when he learned that death had stalked through his heretofore happy home, was under the care of a physician yesterday and doubt was expressed that his condition would permit his attendance at the last rites for his loved ones.

Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, with their children, resided at 4829 Budlong avenue, since moving to this city from Kansas City, Mo., six years ago. According to friends, they were a devoted family.

Death notes left by the mother declared that she had failed in her duties to her children and could not let

Betty Anne Bush

Shirley Jane Bush

It is not often that two girl actresses are hurt in a single automobile accident. C. C. Nelson has only the distinction of having been involved in such a disaster to offset the $1000 the episode cost him.

Betty Anne and Shirley Jane Bush, known in pictures as the Bush twins, appeared before Presiding Judge Stephens yesterday in their first lawsuit, to have the court approve a compromise of their claim for damages proving out of an automobile accident September 26, last.

They were riding with their kindergarten teacher in Huntington Beach that day when Nelson's car struck the one they were in. It was testified, Shirley Jane escaped injury, except for a small cut on her head, and Betty Anne was badly scared, and that was all, their mother, Grace Bush, told Judge Stephens.

"But it kept them away from their work," Mrs. Bush pointed out.

Betty Anne agreed with Harry J. Kelley, attorney for the little girls, that the settlement was reasonable and approved it.

"How old are you girls?" the court asked.

"Five and a half, going on six," they replied together.

Surpassing beauty in these linoleum floors!

Blabon floors of Inlaid Linoleum strike the keynote of colorful decorative schemes for the home.

From the dignified entrance hall to the dainty bedroom and cheery enclosed porch, there is a Blabon pattern particularly appropriate and harmonious.

The Blabon Marble Tile Inlaids, and the effective two-tone Jaspés, are splendid examples of the beauty and art that characterize Blabon's Linoleum.

Aside from their beauty, Blabon floors of Inlaid Linoleum are economical to maintain. Their colors and patterns go through to the burlap back, and remain clear and bright as long as the linoleum lasts. When cemented down over builders' deadening felt—the modern way—the seams are practically invisible and the Blabon floor is permanent.

Blabon floors are comfortable and quiet to walk upon, and easy to keep clean.

Home furnishing and department stores will show you the new decorative patterns in Blabon's Linoleum.

Ask for Blabon's Linoleum by name. Our illustrated booklet, "The Floor for the Modern Home," sent free, upon request.

ABSENTEE VOTE BILL EXPLAINED

Senator Chamberlin in Talk Before City Club

Propositions on November Ballot Canvassed

Retirement of Judges Comes in for Criticism

BY MYRA NYE

Five hundred dollars was the exorbitant cost of a single absentee voter's ballot in 1923 in Los Angeles county, according to State Senator Chamberlin, speaking yesterday before the Women's City Club in regular session in the Morone Theater.

Speaking in behalf of Proposition No. 13 on the ballot for November, which will give an absentee voter the privilege of franchise if the vote is in the hands of the board not later than two weeks after election, Senator Chamberlin said that in spite of this high cost of single votes when only 200 who were eligible in the county voted, he was strongly in favor of the proposition.

"A judge is in the very prime of his career at 60 years of age," said Mr. Chamberlin, "and of infinite value to the State. He will need no pension, for during the ten years mentioned in the measure he will have received $100,000 and from that he can save a competency."

City Attorney Jess Stephens gave a resume of the first sixteen, on which he urged the safe vote of "yes" with the exception of No. 8. However, No. 8-A, which decreases the number of election boards from seven to four, should be passed as an economy measure, he said.

Mrs. Josephine Winn presided and introduced the speakers. Tankvich speaking for it and Judge Myron Winterer against it. The measure which would retire a judge at 60 years of age was vigorously opposed by H. J. Seivine.

Well filled baskets are to be distributed, and toys and a Christmas party for the children are only a part of the planned activities of this department.

This work has been, for the last three years, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Henry T. Wright, who has accomplished many definite things for disabled veterans and their families. Chief among these being the establishment of the Children's Lodge at Seaside, where children of veterans are given care at the day nursery.

The first benefit card party in the interest of this work will be given Thursday, the 26th inst., at 8 p.m., at the new Elks Temple, Sixth street and Parkview avenue, the use of the rooms being donated for the occasion through the efforts of Mrs. Edward Pelton Schenck, chairman of the day.

At least 125 tables can be accommodated, and each federated club in the district has been asked to take one table. A surprise entertainment and tea will be furnished and many beautiful prizes have been donated.

The juice of one lemon, one quart of water or consommé, salt and pepper to taste, a dash of cayenne.

Skin clean, wash and cut the rabbit into pieces at the joints. Put the lard or butter into a deep saucepan or kettle. When hot, add gradually two tablespoons of flour, stirring constantly to prevent burning. Throw in about ten or twelve well mashed allopics and three sprigs each of chopped thyme, parsley, bay leaf and sweet marjoram. Into one clove of garlic, and six large fresh tomatoes, chopped fine, or one-half can of tomatoes. Pour in about one quart of water, and let it boil well. Then add salt and cayenne to taste, and when this has boiled about five minutes, add the rabbit, putting in place by place. Add the juice of a lemon, and let all boil about ten minutes. Serve with mashed potatoes.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS
God could not be everywhere; therefore He made mothers.—[Jewish Proverb.]

PREMENSTRUAL PERIODS
Mrs. P.—Your little girl of 3 years and eight months is having what is known as premenstrual menstruation. While it is not common, there are records of cases in the medical literature of children and babies menstruating (most cases only for a short time.) It cannot always be told what the cause is, but evidently it is some internal gland disturbance and something which has stimulated the ovaries.

After a complete physical examination by a children's specialist to be sure there is no tumor or anything pressing on the ovaries, there is no treatment but just bring up the child as a normal child, with correct diet, fresh air and sunshine, plenty of sleep, and correct mental surroundings.

You state she is underweight and is of a nervous temperament, "taking this from her father." Don't take it for granted that children take anything from their parents, dear Mrs. P., and study her diet a little more and see that she has a diet to gain on. We don't believe that children must be under- or overweight simply because somebody in the family is so.

She will probably stop this premenstrual menstruation, but if she doesn't, she will have to be watched closely, for the beginning of sex desire, without, of course, any mental or moral restriction.

Will you let me know how she gets along, please?

REDUCING DURING PREGNANCY
Mrs. I. has gained twenty-five pounds while carrying her baby now 3 months old. She naturally stands aghast at the weight she's going to be at the time for weaning. But she is afraid that she will lose what little milk she has—which isn't enough—if she reduces. She is not a heavy eater, but some one told her that graham crackers and hot milk and water at each meal and once between meals would make good milk, so she has taken ten cups of milk and water and a dozen graham crackers each day.

The reason you have so little milk, Mrs. I., and the reason you will lose the little you have, is that you are eating so much that the milk gland cells of the breast are being replaced by fat, and this almost always happens when there is too great a gain in weight or if there is too great weight in the beginning.

Your dozen graham crackers daily average (counting 35 C. to a cracker) 420 C., and if you drink half milk and half water, the ten glasses would mean five glasses of milk. A glass of milk is 160 C., so the amounts to 800 C. 800 plus 420 amounts to 1220 C. Therefore, you are getting 1220 C. a day besides your regular meals. This is approximately the caloric value of one-third of a pound of fat, and that's the rate of your gain.

While nursing, you should have a quart of milk daily—about what you need in excess of your ordinary needs, for the baby—but it should be part of your meals. With that, you want to continue the liberal supply of vegetables and fruits for vitamins and mineral elements, some meat, eggs, fish or nuts for your complete protein. (Nuts are especially good during the nursing period, according to some authorities.)

It won't hurt you a particle to reduce, Mrs. I. In fact, you will find your milk will increase. So I advise you to send for the "million-dollar booklet" on the subject. (Don't include the million-dollar! Ten cents in stamps with a fully self-addressed stamped envelope, is all that is necessary.) Begin dieting right away. The booklet, "Diet during Pregnancy and Nursing which you asked for" has the recipe.

CONGESTION LAID TO BAD DESIGNING
Traffic Head Says City Must Correct Errors in Street Planning

Los Angeles must correct design mistakes of the past, as well as provide for the future, if relief from traffic congestion is to be obtained, according to Harry A. Lord, president of the Traffic Commission.

The city and regional planning commissions are accomplishing a great deal, particularly in the sparsely settled districts, Mr. Lord said, "but only a comprehensive opening and widening program can remedy traffic conditions in the settled portions of the city."

The Major Traffic Street Plan, adopted by the voters of the city two years ago, is a balanced and sane plan for handling a tremendous traffic flow.

"In order that the city may pay the share of these projects, and to reduce street-improvement assessments, Charter Amendment No. 7, providing for a tax increase of 9 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation for a period of five years, has been placed on the ballot for adoption at the November 3 election."

Hay Taken at Night Proves More Costly

Stolen hay, taken from a feed store under cover of night, rather than under cover of day, is a costly business, comes high, Charles Richardson learned yesterday in Municipal Judge Richardson's court.

He paid $50 as a fine for stealing hay from the feed yard of E. J. Evans in Sawville, which he admitted doing.

"I took the hay for my mules. Your honor," he explained. "I forgot to buy hay for them last Saturday night and I just couldn't bear to see them go hungry."

Police Officer Fore, however, had a different story for the court. "Hay has been disappearing regularly from this place, Your Honor," Fore testified. "He was unable to further connect Richardson with the theft."

Judge Richardson fined the defendant $50, which was cheap enough at that, he said, for stolen hay.

CHARLIE RAY TO HAVE BIG ROLES

Will Play Leads in Films for Fox and First National;
Universal to Make "The Claw" With Two Favorites;
Louise Fazenda in "Garden of Allah"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Everybody has been wondering, now that Fox has purchased the film rights to Florence Ryerson's famous story, "Willie the Worm," who will play the role of Willie.

use what he imagines in strength to lick said oppressors. Of course, he doesn't die, and that's where the comedy comes in. As though this were not enough glory for a star at one time, it now seems likely that Ray will play the star role in First National's "The Butler and the Egg Man," and "The Poor Nut," both successful plays, the former of which recently was presented at the Theatre.

Concerning "Willie the Worm," its author, Mrs. Ryerson, tells me she is receiving numberless letters from the down-trodden clerks of the country.

Claire and Norman in "Claw"

What mean, ironical old tricks fate does play, even on her favorites, to be sure.

Here Bert Lytell has a whole week's layout from his Orpheum tour, which he and his wife, Claire Windsor, were going to spend most pleasantly vacationing together, when along comes the news that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have loaned her to Universal; so she will have to work all the bright days while her husband is in town.

Norman Kerry and Miss Windsor will play the leading roles in Universal's production of "The Claw," the celebrated novel by Cynthia Stockley, to be directed by King Baggott, according to an announcement from President Carl Laemmle, who is in New York City.

The apex of the good old girl angle will be handled by Forrest Stanley, who, for the first time in a long and varied career, will meet the role of a heavy. Just how he will manage it, I don't see, after all these years of herdom, but after all, he's a good actor.

The action of the story takes place near Johannesburg, where the love of a major in the British army for a beautiful English girl, a complete traitor, or Adrian Village, is being built as one of the several big sets to be used in the production.

This is not the first time the story of "The Claw" has been filmed. Clara Kimball Young portrayed the role to be done by Miss Windsor several years ago.

Comedy Relief for "The Garden"

Probably the combination of Louise Fazenda and "The Garden of Allah" is the last thing in the world you would think of.

Nevertheless, there is every indication that our clever young friend Louise will go abroad come Christmas, to appear in that picture.

Miss Fazenda has been invited by Rex Ingram to play an important role in "The Garden of Allah," which the Metro-Goldwyn director is to make abroad in Nice and Biskra.

As you know, there is no comedy whatever in Hibernia's "Garden of Allah," and all the best authorities being settled on the point nowadays that there must be comedy in the most serious pictures, Mr. Ingram has instructed Willis Goldbeck to write in a good strong comedy role for Miss Fazenda.

The only thing that stands in the way of Miss Fazenda's accepting the offer is the fact that it may interfere with some of the plans the Warner Brothers, who, as you know, have her under contract, and for whom she has just begun work under a co-starring agreement.

Madge Bellamy Comes Home

Bertha, the beautiful sewing-machine girl, has carted her prop sewing machine home from New York, and has found a room in a tenement house and is all ready to sew her way to stardom at Fox Film's Hollywood studio.

Let some simple soul be bewildered by this flight of fancy, let me hasten to explain that Madge Bellamy, who plays the quaint and well-nigh classic character of Bertha, the beautiful sewing-machine girl, has returned from New York, all prepared to start work in the story, which will be directed by Irving Cummings.

Allan Simpson has the male lead, and in the supporting cast are J. Farrell MacDonald, Arthur Housman, Sally Phipps, Anita Graves, Ethel Wales and Paul Nicholson. Also Fried is chief cameraman. Continuity was written by Gertrude Orr, while Ernest Mass and Irving Cummings adapted the play.

Cummings had Miss Bellamy and company in New York five weeks, and while in Gotham he shot many scenes in familiar surroundings. The shooting schedule included Fifth avenue, Broadway, the Battery, and other points of interest.

Miss Bellamy, seen at the Bixby Club dance the other night, looked charming, and declared that you may throw away your rubber stamp about California, so far as she is concerned. While she loves this State, she thinks, along with the heroine of Josephine Daskam's story about the small girl transplanted from her native Boreway to a farm, but who ran away home again—"Gee, N.Y.'s the place!"

Florence Vidor: Stars

That classically beautiful star of Paramount's, Florence Vidor, has returned also from New York, but merely for a vacation. She will remain here a few weeks, and will then return to the East, where she will make another picture for Famous Players-Lasky.

Reginald Denny Writes Story

Maybe as a preliminary to hunting wild lions, Reginald Denny has taken a story of his own writing to the scenario department at Universal City. However, he came away triumphant even from that fearsome ordeal, with Universal not only okaying his story, but even buying it. The story is an automobile yarn, and just to show you that Denny has faith in the tale even if he did write it, he is going to play the star role in it himself.

However, we must admit that Reginald Denny has a goodly hand in it since he wrote the adaptation and continuity.

Eddie Cline With Fox

Eddie Cline, one of the best known motion picture actors, is to be seen in a picture for Fox, which is a right bower at the Mack Bennett Studio, where he went to play in Buchanan's "One Increasing Purpose" for Fox.

The director, who parked his telephone on the Fox lot ten days ago, today was busy engaged in preliminary details for his first big western with the cowboy ace. This is an original story by Adela Rogers St. John, and will be adapted by John Stone. Cline's picture will be shot immediately after Lewis Rainer finishes with and Biskra.

ECAN COMEDY BREAKS RECORD

On Sunday night Frank Egan's comedy success "White Collars" will celebrate its 1200th performance at the Egan Theater. This will be the starting of the 133rd week. The previous long-run record for Los Angeles was held by "Civilian Clothes," which had thirty-seven weeks to its credit.

The best indorsement, it is said, for "White Collars," is the fact that it is now being seen for the third and fourth time by many.

The cast is composed of J. Anthony Smythe, Gladys Hearn, Zella Covington, Blanche Douglas, Rosa Forrester, Norma Leach, Gordon White, Frances Sheehan and Allan Elder.

Mix in "The Last Trail," his current vehicle for Fox Films.

Edna Murphy is in it.

It does seem entirely fitting, doesn't it, just judging from her name, that a girl named Murphy should have the leading feminine role in a picture named

"Mac P. d d e's Place." And so indeed it has been rejoicedly turned

out. Announcement of the fact was made yesterday by Edward

Small that Miss

Murphy had been chosen for the leading feminine

role opposite

Charles

Murray

and

While "MacPadden's Place" doesn't sound like a picture to be made in the fashionable district, nevertheless the fact remains that in it Miss

Murphy will wear some very elegant gowns.

Richard Wallace will direct.

Writes It, Now Lives It

The funniest things do happen in pictures, don't they? Now it is Carl

Laemmle, Jr., who has canceled his entrance to college in order to complete his story "The College"

Young Laemmle was to have attended the University of Pennsylvania,

having all the required credits, but suddenly apparently decided that he could write just as well about college people without bothering to see one, and hence his determination to complete his picture story at Universal.

Not only this, but it is whispered that young Laemmle may be given a responsible position in the Universal firm ere long.

Lila Lee Back From Europe

Caught just a little bit of a glimpse of Lila Lee, the other night at the sixty Club, where she seemed to be enjoying herself hugely. She came home only last Tuesday from abroad, where she went to play in Buchanan-son's "One Increasing Purpose" for Fox.

Edna Lowe's Bon Net

Speaking of "One Increasing

Purpose," Edna Lowe is back from Europe, staying in New York, however, for a week or so. He postcards a friend here:

"You told me to say hello to Paris for you! Boy, I said hello to Paris for everybody I know in Hollywood!"

EARLY IN 1862, GEN. HALLECK, COMMANDING THE UNION FORCES IN THE WEST, PLANNED A CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE CONFEDERATES ON THE MISSISSIPPI AT NEW MADRID, MISSOURI, AND ISLAND NUMBER TEN. GEN. POPE, WHO HAD DISTINGUISHED HIMSELF IN THE FIGHTING IN MISSOURI, WAS CHOSEN TO LEAD THIS EXPEDITION.

ARRIVING BEFORE NEW MADRID (MARCH 3), POPE FOUND THE GARRISON HAD BEEN STRENGTHENED BY THE TROOPS THAT HAD PREVIOUSLY GUARDED COLUMBIAN, AND SENT AN URGENT CALL TO CAMPO FOR HEAVY ARTILLERY, MEANWHILE ENCAMPING AT A SAFE DISTANCE. SIEGE GUNS AND MORTARS REACHED POPE ON MARCH 12 AND ON THE FOLLOWING MORNING A BOMBARDMENT OF THE TOWN WAS BEGUN.

AT NIGHTFALL, THE CONFEDERATE GARRISON WAS THE FIRE OF THE UNION GUNS AND THE CONFEDERATE POSITION BECAME SO UNDESIRABLE THAT THE TROOPS WERE FORCED TO ABANDON THE TOWN AND FLEE TO ISLAND NUMBER TEN.

HE'S KICKED, BITTEN, PUNCHED
AND ALL FOR THE SUM OF $280

Sam Singh, Hindu rancher of Oceanside, doesn't get "to town" very often. Yesterday was one of the days, however, and it will be one he will remember for some time. When he recalls the 18th of October, he'll probably wince a bit at the loss of the $280 he had withdrawn from the bank intending to make several long-delayed purchases.

When a Filipino stopped him at Aliso and Alameda streets and in an undertone asked for a piece of loose change, Singh found 80 cents he was not using and gave it to him. Hardly had the gift been tendered when two other Filipinos leaped upon him from the rear, one of them armed with a knife. One reached the Hindu's jaw intending to take the injured man to a hospital.

When Simons got back to the scene of the accident, Schwarz was gone, and when he read of the finding of the body in the clump of bushes he notified the sheriff's office, it was said. Similarly, Gules yesterday notified the sheriff's office that he had found the body of a woman in the bushes.

CRIME SUSPECTED
LeClere was arrested by Detective Lieutenants Olinger and Clark and turned over to Deputy Sheriff Simons and Croushore. The sheriff's office is holding him on a charge of murder in the belief he concealed the body of Schwarz in the bushes. Schwarz may have been dead when placed in the bushes or he was left to die or beaten to death, the sheriff's office holds.

On November 1, last, LeClere was arrested on a charge of failure to stop and render aid after running down Miss Marguerite Dorregard at Moneta avenue and Forty-sixth street. Police Officer Kimberly reported LeClere refused to stop until several bullets had been fired into his car.

LeClere's asserted actions after the accident to Schwarz are ascribed by the sheriff's office to fear of being involved in another case while out on probation.

WATERFRONT ENIGMA

Wandering Walter Appears to Be Victim of Amnesia

For four days a man about 35 years of age, wearing a waiter's uniform of the Pacific Steamship Company, had been reported wandering around in the vicinity of the Wilmington waterfront. Last night Police Officer Wicks was detailed to find him.

After a search of several hours, Officer Wicks saw a pair of shoes sticking out of the side of a skiff. Lying in the skiff, eating a raw potato, was the man in the waiter's uniform. Police were unable to learn his identity. To all questions he replied, "It's pretty hard to tell." The Pacific Steamship Company was asked last night to check up on its waiters.

Trend of Political Thought and Action

BY THE BIRTH OF HIS BEAT

Said to be the oldest judge now living in California in addition to being the senior retired member of the California Supreme Court, Hon. Lucien Shaw, 80 years of age, ex-Chief Justice of the highest court in the State, today announced his unqualified approval of Judge Jesse W. Curtis, associate of the California Supreme Court, and the man who polled nearly 800,000 votes to win the primary election, as a candidate to succeed himself at the November election.

Judge Shaw, the acknowledged "grand old man" of the California judiciary, having spent nearly half his life of three score and twenty as a California judge, issued the following statement yesterday: "I most heartily endorse Judge Jesse W. Curtis for the position he now holds as associate justice of the highest court we have in the State of California."

"It was fitting that the voters of California should have given him such an overwhelming vote which returned him the victor of the primary and 'write-in' vote."

"Watching his progress with interest, I was highly gratified when he ultimately reached, through the appreciation of his fellow-Californians, the bench of the highest court we have in this State. His rise was by gradual steps through a career as lawyer, District Attorney, judge in all the lower courts and finally as associate justice of the Supreme Court of California."

"Judge Curtis's judicial temperament, experience and poise, and above all his past record of public service, qualify him as one of the foremost jurists serving the people of California today as a judge."

Battleship Divisions Hold Landing Drill

"Richthofen's Circus" had nothing on the battle fleet aircraft squadrons as they will appear at the end of this week, following the painting of the tails and pontons of all seaplanes in a new distinguishing system. Every color of the rainbow will be utilized, so that planes from each battleship may be distinguished while in the air.

The two VO squadrons attached to the dreadnaught squadrons will be very busy in the air this week. Yesterday the planes were up as targets for the spotters of the battleship anti-aircraft batteries, preparing for the annual anti-aircraft gunnery exercises. Both squadrons are also getting machine-gun practice, the aerial gunners firing at sleeve targets towed by other Voughts of the squadron.

Aviation interest in the fleet this morning will center around the U.S.S. West Virginia, from the top of Turret Three of which ship Lt. Col. J. H. F. Fahmy and two other officers will be catapulted into space in a 5100-pound Loring amphibian plane. All of yesterday was spent in tuning up the new powder-impulse catapult and the inverted Packard motor of the big amphibian in readiness for the revolutionary shot.

Man-o-War Row was given an added warlike aspect yesterday by the landing force drills held by the ships of Battleship Division Three and Five. In long lines of hostilities, crews of the West Virginia, Colorado, Maryland, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Nevada, Arizona and Pennsylvania went ashore with full field equipment.

The naval transport Ballina, from Hampton Roads via Port au Prince, Haiti, and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, is due at the local base today. The transport Chaumont, due here on the 19th inst., with 500 new engines for the battle fleet, is still undergoing repairs at San Diego, where she put in on the 17th inst., with engines disabled. The Chaumont is expected at Los Angeles Harbor tomorrow.

For the first time this year the battle fleet will make official observance of Armistice Day, according to announcement made yesterday aboard the U.S.S. California. The U.S.S. Idaho has been ordered to Santa Barbara for the celebration. Ships bands will also head parades at various island cities.

ATWATER
RADIO

Why do 3 out of 4 people who ask for radio by name say "Atwater Kent"?

Because, with only ONE Dial to turn, it's so simple that anyone can get the same results as a radio engineer.

Because it works from the start—keeps on working, and doesn't plague the owner with service costs.

Because it meets to-day's demand for power and efficiency in small space.

Because it's good to look at as well as to listen to.

Because its tone—at low or large volume—is clear and true.

Because it's a standard make—not some to-day and gone to-morrow.

Because to see and hear it is to want it.

And because to own it is to be satisfied, as hundreds of thousands of Atwater Kent Radio owners testify.

Let an Atwater Kent dealer show you how the price range is on the lowlands of popular desire, not up on the heights where few care to climb, and that you can't buy better Radio at any price.

Every evening, the Atwater Kent Radio Orchestra is on the air from 6:30 to 7:00 over KNX.

Evening for trainers and handlers the "Leopard Lady." Leopards and the big cats the Saturday night "bathing one of her charges."

MUSSOLINI
ONSET HERE

Bay City Steamship Man
Jailed as Suspect After Attack on Dictator

Arrested in Italy as one of the men who attempted to kill Mussolini with bombs, Charles F. Shesby, Bay City steamship man, has the distinction of glimpsing the interior of an Italian jail and living to tell the tale. He arrived yesterday on the Dollar globe-circling liner President Van Buren and will sail for his Bay City home today.

"I was standing in the crowd when the bomb was thrown at Mussolini," Shesby explained.

"The man next to me was struck in the neck by a fragment of the missile. He fell against me, blood smearing my white suit. Everybody was arrested and I had an awful time convincing the 'crits' I was a fellow with a bristly mustache that I wasn't the villain. Fortunately, I had a letter of introduction from Hugh Mackenzie, passenger traffic manager of the Dollar Line. The thing worked like magic. The Dollar Line, according to the mustached gentleman, was a great benefactor to Italian shipping and a power for righteousness. I was escorted from jail with profuse apologies and everything but the band playing. If it hadn't been for that letter I'd probably still be in jail."

Then aboard also was Andrew A. Freeman of the New York Ship News Service, and Mrs. Freeman. He has the distinction of being the only newspaper reporter extant who ever saved up enough money to make a trip around the world. Harry R. Smith, sports editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, also is a passenger.

Hal H. Bacon, Los Angeles paper wholesaler, comes home twenty pounds heavier than when he sailed for New York, inspired by Mrs. Bacon's concern over his health. The Rev. Dr. W. E. Huntington and Mrs. Huntington of Newton Centre, Mass., have come out to play. Dr. Huntington recently retired after twenty years as president of Boston University.

Thirty of the seventy-three passengers aboard disembarked here and twenty-five Los Angeles folk will embark when the sails on around the world today. The vessel also is letting down several pieces of Italian marble statuary, comprising a score of heroic figures symbolical of life's phases, and known as the "Mystery of Life." It is destined for Forest Lawn Memorial Park at Glendale.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

Helps for Elegance and All Who Appreciate Good Cooking

This department is conducted by the staff of the Los Angeles Times and is devoted to the publication of recipes and cooking tips. It is the aim of this department to help the housewife to cook more economically and to give her more time to devote to other household duties.

HOW TO FLAVOR WITH ECONOMY
VANILLA BEAN
E. M. B. Long Beach.—The French pastry cook uses the vanilla bean, which gives the best and most economical results. As these beans are kept buried in sugar in a closely sealed jar or can, the sugar absorbs much of the vanilla flavoring and may be used to make desserts which call for vanilla flavoring, especially those where the addition of liquid is not desirable, such as meringues, macaroons, etc. When a stronger flavor is desired, cut the vanilla bean in pieces, pound to a fine paste in a mortar, continue pounding, adding the sugar gradually, then rub it through a fine sieve. In mixture in which liquid is used, infuse half a vanilla bean in liquid until liquid is sufficiently flavored, remove bean, wipe and dry a few minutes in the warmer, then bury it again in sugar, to be used later on again.

MOCK BISCUIT
B. H. L. Alhambra, Cal.—Beat the yolk of one egg until light and beat into it half a pound of finely rolled macaroons and half a cupful of sifted sugar; mix well and fold lightly into two cupfuls of stiffly whipped cream; add half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract, pour into a wet mold, cover tight, pack in two parts of fine ice and one part rock salt and let stand four hours. Unmold on a cold dish and serve in slices.

FRENCH PANCAKES
A. A. Pasadena.—There are several recipes for French pancakes that are used in the better-class catering establishments, but the one that I have used with good success is very simple. To make properly one should use a six-inch steel saute pan to bake them in. Beat the yolk of two eggs until thick and beat into them one and a half cupfuls of milk; mix smooth and beat in one and a half cupfuls of flour sifted with a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. When the batter is smooth add one teaspoonful of melted butter and the stiffly beaten whites of the two eggs. The batter is better if made an hour before using. To bake heat two teaspoonfuls of butter in a small saute pan and pour in a thin layer of batter when the butter is very hot. Bake on both sides. Place the baked cakes on a hot dish, sprinkled with powdered sugar and spread with jelly or jam. Roll up and dust with powdered sugar.

SOUTHERN BAKED HAM
A. D. B. Van Nuys, Cal.—The ham should be well cured and not too fat. Place the ham in a large pot or wooden bucket and cover with half cold water and half cider (in the old days they used claret) and let stand overnight. In the morning drain off the water and place the ham in a large pot, cover with half fresh cold water and cider and boil slowly for five hours. Let cool in the water that the ham was boiled in if you want to serve a cold boiled ham; should you want to serve a baked ham, remove the ham from the water as soon as it is tender, about three to four hours for a twelve or fourteen-pound ham, and remove the skin. Stick whole cloves half an inch apart into the fat all around the edge of the fat part. Spread the fat with a thick layer of half bread crumbs and brown sugar. Place in a hot oven and bake with one cupful of cider, baste every fifteen minutes for forty-five minutes. A ham of ten pounds will serve from twenty to twenty-five people.

CIDER SAUCE
Place in a saucepan one cupful of the gravy from the ham, one cupful of cider, one cupful of chopped seeded raisins, two tablespoonfuls of grated lemon rind and half a teaspoonful of cayenne pepper. Reduce one-third and serve very hot. If the cayenne pepper is too sharp use paprika.

AVOCADO
P. A. S. Burbank.—For a salad select soft, but not mushy, avocados and cut in half the long way, remove the stones and prick the flesh with a fork until it is covered with little holes. Dust each half with a seasoning of salt and paprika and if liked add a little cinnamon. Now place each half on a lettuce leaf on a cold plate and place in each half half teaspoonful of French mustard, one tablespoonful of lemon juice and two tablespoonfuls of olive oil; mix the dressing well with a teaspoon and eat with a spoon as you would a melon.

Another way to serve the avocado is to serve the thoroughly chilled avocado whole, remove the stone at the table and scoop out the flesh into a saucer. To the flesh add one tablespoonful of lemon juice, three tablespoonfuls of olive oil, a seasoning of salt and paprika, and rub to a smooth paste. This paste is spread on thin slices of toasted bread and eaten as a green salad.

AVOCADO COCKTAIL
To make the avocado cocktail, peel the small avocados, remove the stone, cut the meat in strips and cut the strips in dice. Mix one cupful of tomato catsup with one teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice, a seasoning of salt and paprika, five drops of Tabasco sauce, and mix with the avocado. Just before serving, stir in lightly one cupful of cream. Serve in cocktail glasses set in a bed of chopped ice and garnish with a slice of lemon.

Film Pair Home After Hurried Trip Overseas

Edmund Lowe and his wife, Lilian Tashman, film stars, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday after a hurried trip to England where Lowe appeared in a motion picture for the William Fox Company. There will be no rest for Lowe. He begins work immediately at the Fox studio in Hollywood on the interiors of the picture. Miss Tashman, who went along to be with her husband and to enjoy a vacation, expects to sign a contract within the next few days to take up her film work again. A number of friends of the couple, including David Butler, motion-picture director, and his family were at the station to meet the Salt Lake train which brought Lowe and Miss Tashman back to California.

TWO CONVICTED IN BANKRUPTCY CASE

Jack Udell and Danny Milner were convicted by a jury yesterday in Federal Judge McCormick's court of perpetrating frauds in connection with the bankruptcy of the "Buffalo Boys Market" at 3331 South Figueroa street. Three other defendants, Morris Millman, Jake Belger and Meyer Grandwitz, were acquitted. Sentence will be pronounced this morning. The five men were arrested last May, following an investigation by Federal agents and police. It was stated that they opened the store and market, paid their bills promptly, thus securing credit, and apparently handled a large volume of business. Following the arrests several caches of property were recovered. The bankruptcy was said to have involved about $15,000.

CREAM PUFF BRAND

SELF-RAISING FLOUR
Cake Waffle Biscuit Pastry
AND ITS USES

A scientifically blended Flour so perfectly adapted to the uses enumerated below, and hundreds of other uses, that no housekeeper can afford to mix Flour and Baking Powder in the old way of guessing at results and possibly wasting expensive eggs, sugar and other ingredients in the Cake and Pastry making.

Cream Puff Cake, Biscuit, Waffle and Pastry Flour is properly leavened in the most accurate proportions, ready for immediate use, without the addition of Baking Powder, Soda or Salt.

To use Cream Puff just remember that you proceed to make anything you are accustomed to making, but omit the Baking Powder, thus you see the uses for Cream Puff Self-Raising Flour are unlimited.

If you would have confidence in the above statement you would use Cream Puff for every use where you now use Flour and Baking Powder (generally guessing at the amount of Baking Powder you are putting with the Flour.)

Just think, two teaspoonfuls full of Baking Powder measured out by one person is sometimes more than three teaspoonfuls full as measured by another person. How can good results be expected with such inaccuracy?

Cream Puff Self-Raising, Cake, Waffle, Biscuit and Pastry Flour is so accurately prepared that there is not so much as a teaspoon full of leavening too much in a hundred packages, thus what ever you make from Cream Puff is sure to be uniform and a success.

Biscuit making is easy; as for Dumplings, it is impossible to make such dumplings in any other manner as can be made with Cream Puff, and it is a positive fact that they will always turn out light, and even when cold are still light. Every kind of Cake can be made without danger of wasting eggs, sugar, extract, fruit and other material used in Cake baking, and your Cake will be a success.

If you do not try Cream Puff at once you are depriving yourself of the greatest boon to housekeepers, whether already fine cooks or novices in the art. With Cream Puff a child can make perfect Cake, Biscuit, Short Cake, Layer Cake and Dumplings of any kind.

Cream Puff is sold in three pound cartons. Every package guaranteed or money refunded; is more economical than buying high grade Flour and Baking Powder, and by reason of the perfect blending goes farther; contains no alum, ammonia, or other injurious ingredients often used in Baking Powder. Packed in sanitary, machine filled cartons.

400 million pounds of raisins for America's markets alone

OVER the Sierras a freight train climbs, its cargo raisins—for Chicago perhaps, or New York, or Boston.
Another follows for St. Louis and the smaller cities nearby. Another switches off cars at junction points—raisins for hundreds of small town grocers.
Almost a daily trainload the year around—7142 cars—over four hundred million pounds of raisins for California's best customer, our own United States.
It is not surprising that your grocer should have Sun-Maid raisins, here in California.
But it may be interesting for you to know that 90% of all the raisins in the land likewise sell this brand.
The reason is, of course, that everywhere demand these

OF CALIFORNIA

THE INTERVIEWER
"California may have the finest climate on earth for human beings but it's not so good as that of New Zealand for rainbow trout," said G. F. W. Grainger of London, who is at the Alexandria.
"I am on my way around the world and stopped a time in New Zealand to fish in the mountain streams and lakes of the north island. Rainbow trout, imported from California, is the principal game fish of New Zealand waters at this time and it furnishes the finest fishing I have struck in any part of the world."
The rainbow grows to a very large size in New Zealand, fifteen-pound fish being no exception and six and eight pounders being common. This greatness in size is perhaps not so much due to climate conditions, however, as it is to the fact that the inland waters of New Zealand teem with small fresh-water fish that furnish the imported trout a superfluity of food with but little exertion on the part of the trout.
SENATOR SHORTIDGE DISCUSSES ENGLISH CASE
"The United States Senate this year will convene on November 10, nearly a month before the opening of Congress, to conduct the hearing on impeachment proceedings against former Judge English of Illinois," said

Senator Shortridge, who is at the Biltmore.
"The impeachment was voted by the House at the last Congress and before the session adjourned it was resolved to call the Senate together long enough before the opening of the coming short session of Congress to complete the impeachment hearing before the work of the session opens, the first week in December."
"I don't recall that such a situation has ever before come up in our national legislative body and there was some question as to whether or not the hearing could be conducted with only the Senate in session. It was determined that there is neither law nor precedent to prevent it, however, and the hearing was therefore decided upon to take place before the formal opening of Congress."
SONORA RIVERS SWOLLEN BY RAINS
"For the first time in forty years the Yaqui and Sonora rivers of Sonora, Mexico, have this fall carried enough water to enable them to reach their outlet in the Gulf of California," said Mrs. W. B. Kibbey of Magdalena, Son., who is at the Biltmore.
"The excessive rains during the fall have caused these and other streams in the place the Yaqui rose three feet in a single hour. In many places the rivers overflowed their banks and caused a good deal of damage to railroad property. Destruction to crops, however, has been inconsiderable."
"In ordinary years the rivers and streams of this region are lost in the sands before they reach the gulf, but this year the floods were so heavy that the old channels to the sea were filled."
NEW GRAZING FEES SCHEDULE PROPOSED
"A new schedule of grazing fees in the national forests of the country will be forthcoming before so

California products: Sun-Maid Nectars, seedless raisins with the fragrance, flavor and plump tenderness of fresh grapes; and Sun-Maid Puffed, seeded raisins that aren't sticky.
And, just as you are using more and more of these finer raisins, so are millions of other American housewives.
California's raisin industry has grown to meet a demand that is steadily increasing. Its progress must go on with the growth of the nation.

Through the development of finer products and the means of their orderly movement into widening markets, Sun-Maid has secured for California the rich reward of cooperative marketing.

SOUNDS LARGE BUT IT ISN'T
Four Million Russian Rubles and Clothing Loss Comes Only to $200
Four million Russian rubles and clothing valued at $200 were stolen from the home of M. Neressian, 673 Richmond street, police were informed yesterday. Neressian gave his total loss at $200. Inquiry at a bank elicited the information that the rubles have no exchange value, but may be used as wallpaper.
"Very long," said R. R. Hill of Washington, inspector of grating of the Forestry Department, who is at the Biltmore.
"A complete survey of the forests was made by the department some time ago to ascertain what changes are necessary in the present system of fees to render them more equitable. In some places the government was getting too large a fee and in others too small. A report on the department's finding was submitted to Secretary of Agriculture last August and his decision as to changes will be made known in due time."
There are about 24,000,000 acres of national forestry land in California subject to grazing and it supports annually about 200,000 cattle and horses and 500,000 sheep and goats from May until November. The fees up to this time have been from $1 to 140 per head a year for cattle and from 25 to 35 cents per head for sheep and goats. The government's annual income from forest grazing in California.

SMILING OF SNUFF HELD ON INCREASE
But Englishman Admits It Will Never Be Highly Popular in America
Snuff sniffing in America is increasing, but probably never will attain rank as the nation's popular pastime. This, from no less a personage than Albert Harland of Sheffield, England, member of Parliament and king of snuff makers. Incidentally, he owns a few metal mines, but the snuff business is his biggest gold mine, he admits.
The distinguished visitor called yesterday on the Panama Mail motorship City of Panama for Crockett, whom he goes to visit friends in Jamaica before going home to wrestle with coal strikes and doles and devious things.
Mr. Harland said California was nicer than Italy, France, Monte Carlo, and rich, astoundingly so, in contrast with pathetic England.
The visitor is one of England's leading champions for the Boy Scouts, and incidentally was returned to Parliament with a greater majority from his constituency than any other member.

SON PLAYS AS MOTHER TRIES DEATH
Child's Cries at Finding Door Locked Lead Police to Make Investigation
After telling her 8-year-old son to "run along and play," then locking the boy out, Mrs. Anna L. Brown, 28 years of age, of 2626 Elsendale Place, drank a quantity of poison yesterday. She is in a critical condition at the Receiving Hospital with but a meager chance of recovery, according to hospital reports.
Willis, the young son, played about the front yard for a short while, then started into the house. Finding the door locked, he called to his mother. Unable to get a response, the boy cried loudly as he beat vainly at the front door. The attention of a neighbor was attracted, the police notified and the woman's condition discovered.
A note addressed to her husband, Arthur Brown, and son began with "Beloved Arthur and Willis," and read:
"I cannot suffer more. Forgive me. God bless you both. A."
Notified of his wife's suicidal attempt, Mr. Brown stated that she had been in ill-health for some months, apparently suffering from an acutely nervous condition, according to police reports.
